is a genuine novelty. We have come to expect great things from Doug Fairbanks; we sometimes wonder where he can possibly get any more new ideas from. Yet he comes along with a picture like this and simply carries us off our feet. "When the Clouds Roll By" is so new and original in story and action, so far away from anything that has been attempted before, that we go on record now with the prediction that every laugh-loving, thrill-loving man, woman and child in town will be talking about Fairbanks and his picture before the week is half over.

TRAIN HITS AUTO; WOMAN HURT

Miss Mayme Ray of 913 Chillicothe street suffered serious bruises and had a narrow escape from being killed Thursday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock when the Ford touring car in which she was riding was struck by an N. & W. train at the Fourteenth street crossing, near Chillicothe.

Mrs. Blanche McCarty, of 913 Chillicothe street owner and driver of the machine was driving west on Fourteenth street and failed to hear the freight train which was approaching the crossing. The freight train elevator is near the track and prevented Mrs. McCarty from seeing the train until she was almost on the track. She quickly realized her peril and attempted to escape by turning her machine down Gay street toward Thirteenth street. The machine did not get in the clear the pilot striking the rear of the machine. Miss Ray was thrown from the machine to the right and near the track, the train missing her by a close margin.

Dr. Albert Berni attended Miss Ray while Mrs. McCarty escaped with a severe fright.
The machine was not seriously damaged.

Portsmouth Growing

Portsmouth's new census figures are expected to show the population of this city to be in the neighborhood of 30,000.

The Royal Savings & Loan Company points to this growth in Portsmouth as a significant factor contributing to the safety which this institution affords for funds.

This is because THE ROYAL loans money almost exclusively on real estate and as the growth of the city steadily increases the value of the property, it naturally follows that the margin of safety on loans is also increased.

Real estate has always been recognized as affording the greatest safety for money, a fact appreciated by our thousands of customers depositing their savings here at 4 per cent compounded interest.

Judge Horace L. Small left this afternoon for Cincinnati on business. He will not return before Sunday, consequently there will be no session of police court Saturday.

TO DECIDE SATURDAY

At the office of the Whitaker-Glossner company it was stated this afternoon that at a meeting to be held tomorrow morning the question of more daylight saving would be taken up.

Daylight Saving Ordinance Effective Sunday Morning

The Daylight Saving ordinance will go into effect at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, April 25, when the hands of the clock will be moved from 2 o'clock to 3 o'clock.

Please post notices to this effect in your establishment.

Yours truly,
EDW. S. GILFILLAN,
Sec. of Portsmouth Industrial Athletic Association.

The above is the text of a letter sent out by Edw. S. Gilfillan, director of Community Service and secretary of the Portsmouth Industrial Athletic League to more than 100 merchants, factories and mills to Portsmouth announcing the daylight saving plan which goes into effect Sunday morning at two o'clock.

Judge Horace Small of the municipal court announced Friday morning that his court would adopt the time change.

The court house officers with the exception of the common pleas and probate court, have announced the plan under which they will operate. Judge Thomas is out of the city, so that the plan of operation of that court has not been announced. The clerk's office announced that they would not turn the clock ahead, but would open at 10 o'clock, standard time, and close at 4 o'clock. The reason for this is that the time now in vogue is legal time, and it is necessary for the clerk's office to operate under that time.

The county auditor and treasurer will operate under the old time, making no change in their time of opening their offices.

The probate court has not announced definitely what plan will be followed in that office.

POLITICS

NEW YORK, April 23.—Vice President Thomas R. Marshall today compared himself as a man driving a fire along a good road and having pleasant sailing to the man who turned his automobile into a swamp in a search for something better than the road. This was said to emphasize his declaration that he is not a candidate for the office of President.

"I know all the older Indiana statesmen and politicians," said the Vice President. "I know that Charles W. Fairbanks and Thomas A. Hendricks sought and did not achieve the Presidency, and Benjamin Harrison because his party would not give him a nomination for a second term, died in the belief that republicans are ungrateful."

"It is easy for a man to persuade himself that the public is calling him."

but when he goes to the convention he is apt to find that the delegates have not heard the call."

Indianapolis, Ind., April 23.—Considerable comment was caused in Indiana political circles today when it became known that Senator Hiram W. Johnson had returned to appear on the program at a Richmond Republican meeting Thursday night with Senator Warren G. Harding. The Senator declared before leaving on a tour of the state today that his failure to reach Richmond was due to missing a train at Indianapolis, but it became known that his campaign managers here had made efforts to have another date set for the California at Indianapolis when it was announced that Harding would speak there.

It is said that Johnson looked at sharing his time with another speaker, and when his demand for the entire evening was refused he flatly declined to appear. He has made arrangements to speak in Richmond next Wednesday night.

Senators William B. Eshsch and William S. Kenyon will stump Indiana for Johnson next week and the Senators will return from Maryland the middle of the week to campaign until the primary on May 4.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the Columbia university and candidate for the republican presidential nomination, left today with a party of supporters for a speaking tour of the Middle West. The first stop will be at Chicago tomorrow. From there the party will go to Milwaukee, Madison, Davenport and Grand Rapids. Dr. Butler will return April 25.

COLUMBUS, O., April 23.—Prospect of good weather next week is expected to result in an extremely light vote in all the rural precincts of Ohio. Farm labor has never commanded so high figures as this year, and every bit of man power available is being needed on Ohio farms.

The expectation of observers is that the vote will be the lightest in years, because the farmers will remain at their plows instead of flocking to the election booths.

Indifference is expected to characterize the acreages, as they have exhibited little interest thus far in the election booths.

There is no means of ascertaining which faction in the republican primaries will be helped or hindered by the voting.

ZANESVILLE, O., April 23.—(Herald Tribune) At these political proposals candidates who have declared that a

MERCHANTS DISCUSS THE HALF HOLIDAY PLAN; MAY OBSERVE 'CERTIFICATE DAY'

Thursday night at the regular meeting of the retailers of the Chamber of Commerce it was the consensus of opinion of those present that they observe a Thursday half holiday from June 17, to Sept. 2, inclusive.

The meeting held last night in the basement of U. B. church at six o'clock followed a splendid supper served by the ladies of the church. Close to 35 retailers and wives were in attendance, although close to 400 invitations were sent out. The meeting had a forum discussion of various subjects, several important matters being brought to the attention of the businessmen by Mr. J. B. Wiles. The Education Committee reported that the various lines of business had signed the merchants agreement almost 100 per cent.

The next matter taken up for discussion was the banishment from display windows of all kinds of "outside" advertising. Various ones present expressed themselves on this question some holding that it was hard to refuse churches and church societies when they wanted to place signs in the windows. J. P. Taylor of the Universal Motor Company said that he did not think there would be any trouble if the idea was observed generally all over the city and that there would not be any hard feelings if all the merchants would put the idea into effect. No definite decision could be reached by the merchants present and the matter will be brought up at another meeting.

The Thursday afternoon closing proposition was taken up next. Secretary William Harris explaining how hard it was last year to get the merchants to close by signing petitions. W. B. Anderson and others spoke in favor of the closing from June 17 to Sept. 2. Mr. Anderson saying that it should be made general and that the public would quickly come to learn that business is suspended on that day. The help employed appreciate the half holiday and the public is beginning to look forward to the closing as it is becoming universal all over the country, some stores closing all day on Saturday in the bigger cities. A motion was first made to appoint a committee to take up the question of closing but this motion was laid aside when a motion was made that it was the conclusive opinion of this meeting that the retailers observe the Thursday half holiday.

The matter of having a trade certificate day to take the place of "dollar day" was discussed in general but no action was taken.

Manager J. B. Wiles spoke on better attendance, urged at these meetings.

Does 3¢ = Americanism?

Did you know that 3c is MORE than the churches average from each member per day?

WE AMERICANS may be thoughtless. Sometimes we may appear selfish. But when a great need arises, no one can say that we have ever shirked.

Ask any son of France. Ask any soldier of Great Britain. Or ask any Armenian mother or a girl with a red cross on her sleeve or one with a tambourine in her hand.

And now the churches come to us for help—our churches. Not begging. Not asking alms. But with heads lifted high facing a task so worthy that we, as loyal Americans, ought to feel it a privilege to help.

Here is the Plain, Unvarnished Truth

We don't need to be told that the church is the heart of the Nation. We admit its influence for lasting good in our children. We see its stabilizing influence on our communities. We know a little of its great hospitals, its homes for children, its schools and colleges here and abroad.

But most of us do not realize how pitifully inadequate the support of the churches is when compared to the urgent needs.

Less than 3¢ a day!

In spite of the great tasks which we expect our churches to carry out, those of us who give to the church—and the number is all too few—are now giving an average of less than 3¢ a day for all church purposes.

Less than 3¢ a day.

Shall our churches go on? It is for you to say.

Without your help the work of your church must be just that much less.

Give—and give from your heart as well as from your pocketbook.

Should a Husband Forgive?

As for the Festival itself, which clings around the old tradition of the crowning of the May, it will take place the first day of May on a prominent downtown green and will be a taste of fairland.

A World Survey Was Made

Our churches know the needs that must be met. They know exactly how every dollar—every penny—will be used for the greatest good without waste.

A world survey was made by the churches that astounds business men in its thoroughness. Country after country was studied; the countries of the world were visited and reported in minute detail.

How the Interchurch World Movement Originated

Our churches said: "The task of meeting the urgent needs shown by the world survey is too great for us to do individually as denominations. We must do this work together."

So thirty great denominations are cooperating—each keeping its own purpose and identity—but all working together under the name of the Interchurch World Movement.

Because of this cooperation, it is estimated that over one million dollars will be saved alone in eliminating waste and duplication.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Representative Charles O. Kearns of Batavia, Ohio, this afternoon predicted that Senator Warren G. Harding would carry the Ohio presidential primary by a vote of 2 to 1 over General Leonard Wood. "Harding is recognized as one of the biggest men who has ever served in the United States Senate," said Kearns. If you are just recovering from a sick spell—or may be your system is run down and your blood so weak that you are in a poor shape to resist infection—

But if you don't feel and look robust you are not robust. Such state is often due to weak blood, not enough red blood cells, a condition known as anemia.

The best remedy for anemia (bloodlessness) with its low mental and physical vigor is Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Pepto-Mangan supplies the weak, watery blood with the very elements it needs to put new life into it. It repairs, re-creates and rebuilds the exhausted blood, the vital fluid of health and life. Try Pepto-Mangan if you are "run-down." It cannot harm you—it will certainly help you unless you have some deep-seated chronic disease requiring the physician's care. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. For sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

COAL SUPPLY IS LOW

The coal supply at the city water works plant is running short on account of the strike, but Service Director Gergens stated Thursday that he had received assurances from the Whitaker-Glasser Company officials that they would divert sufficient coal from their supply to tide the city plant over the emergency, should it be necessary.

"We have now on hand barely enough to last 24 hours and the offer of the steel company officials to assist us out of a bad situation, is certainly a great relief," said the director.

Refrigerators to fit all kitchens and all pocketbooks, at prices lower than we ever expected to see them again

Did you ever stop and think how fortunate the modern housewife is to be able to have the various modern kitchen appliances that eliminate both work and worry, and make house-keeping a pleasure instead of a burden?

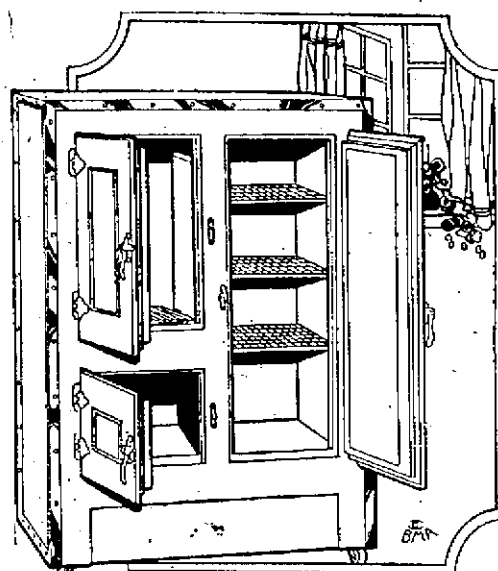

And not the least amongst these appliances is the modern refrigerator. There is a vast difference between the modern refrigerator of today and the old ice-box of a few years back. In the ice-box it was quite impossible to keep delicate foods without having them tainted by other stronger flavors. But this is all done away with by modern refrigeration, and food may now be kept with little danger of its becoming tainted. The food compartments are kept at an even temperature, with the greatest economy of ice, and can be easily cleaned as the top of your kitchen table.

THE ROMANCE OF RUTH

By Rev. B. C. Boyd

The story of Ruth the Moabitess is the world's heart through all the years. Against the heavy legalism of Leviticus, it is the most appealing love story. It is the romance of Judah and the wearest color, it is around itself aboutness of Chronicles it is a delightful relief. As a romantic supplement to Job, the Book of Ruth is another answer to the heresy that suffering and loss argue for sin and the anger of Jehovah.

There are three elements in the love story of Ruth: the romance of the young widow and Boaz, the Judean farmer, with its eternal appeal to youth; her deep affection for her mother-in-law, where love is welcome because unexpected; and the noble elements of her devotion to Jehovah. The love passages with Boaz are not in the scope of this discussion. Our immediate concern is with the character development that stamps the gentle girl a fitting ancestress for King David and Jesus of Nazareth.

Three characters appear in the early part of the book; all widows, the elder the mother-in-law of the younger two. The unrest which war has left in modern life, death left in theirs. Having parted with things once held precious, change seemed imperative, and they must part with one another and their old life. They stand at the crouching of Jordan, at the solemn hour of parting.

Strangely enough, Orpah and her mother-in-law very nearly do the same thing—each returns to her old life, though with different emotions. The Younger woman feels that sorrow and disfavor drive her back to the old home, old customs, old faith. The new religion of Israel has brought but little save loss, and she seeks the quiet comfort of the older atmosphere. It is a false assumption to suggest that worldliness is responsible for her desertion of Naomi. Would you call it worldly to return to your childhood faith? She owed but little now to her mother-in-law; nor could she understand her alien faith. She was mentally unable to go on in a spiritual thing, and she simply dropped out. She is an eternal type of those who find something higher in life, but lose it when misfortune comes, or a change in one's way of living is demanded.

The heart-broken, homesick widow and mother leaves the land where money was made but where husband and two sons lie buried, to return to the barren hills of growth and her childhood. Sorrow drives her home; life holds nothing rich this side of the grave. God has dealt harshly with her—"Call me bitter!" she cries—yet she trusts Him, and returns to Bethlehem to die. Naomi is the eternal type of the one whom sorrow crushes, and whose faith is tugged with bitterness. She turns back to a happy past, and urges the two girls to do the same.

But Ruth is different from her companions in sorrow. Bowed by the same weight of grief, disheartened, discouraged, yet is her faith of different temper than theirs. Return to the worship of Chemosh, the god of her fathers, she cannot, for she has learned the joy and blessedness of the purer faith of the true and living God. Her unrest can only be satisfied by a deeper knowledge and a fuller worship. It is not to the new to which, then, she turns, but to a continuation of the growth in grace which has been so splendidly begun. She is determined, to make permanent what she has gained through her new faith.

We sympathize indeed with all, but must recognize that Ruth, the alien, has a nobler concept of religion than the others. One drops back one goes on. The one who goes on has known a real conversion, and gained the spiritual insight to recognize what that conversion involves. Hence it is Ruth of Moab and not Naomi of Bethlehem who is chosen to become the ancestress of King David and of Jesus of Nazareth.

Ruth saw that atmosphere is necessary to make spiritual things permanent. Private adherence is worthy, but worthless, a trial of a family requires a sacrifice. So she crosses over to Israel, that the people, institutions, language, even the land, as well as its God, may be hers. No Nehemiah had yet appeared to open a divorce market, so she is received into Israel's heart. The church of today may seem alien and far away to those "beyond Jordan," yet it is as open as Israel was to the Moabitess, and both conserve the worship of the true God. To people with strong radical ideals, Ruth exemplifies early in Israel's history that religion is a personal matter. Naomi was linked with a land, Ruth with a human being—her mother-in-law. Naomi's wanderings had shut her away from God; Ruth found God through Naomi, and would follow her everywhere. Religion was national with one, intensely personal with the other. The one went back; the other went out; and wherever religion becomes personal men always go on. The older woman wanted to change her name to Marsh—"bitter"; the younger's has become a synonym for faith, love, and religious idealism.

By many, Orpah has been scolded for lack of sense of duty to Naomi. Yet she owed her no more than she owed to her own mother and her childhood home. There is no duty higher than that one owes to oneself and one's highest spiritual needs; Jesus did not say, "Love thy neighbor more than thyself." Orpah would have made but a poor companion in any case. It was love and a high spirit of service that fired Ruth. Duty done requires an adequate reward, and love makes duty more than duty. Some make duty but slavery; others make a religion of it. A loveless, faithless, agnostic Naomi would have gone alone back to Bethlehem. Her faith inspired Ruth to attempt her "great adventure."

High couples love with faith, makes religion a personal matter, and puts a halo about the head of service. He who by Love conquered Death might well be thought to have treasured in his memory the words of his kinswoman at the fons of Jordan: "Entreat me not to leave thee, and to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God; where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried: the Lord do so to me, and more also, if I ought but death part thee and me."

Whatever your needs may be, so far as Spring footwear is concerned regardless of style, color or materials, you will be quite certain to find the very best of values in our shoe department from the smart little mannish brogue oxford that Milady wears with her tweed suit, to the daintiest of pumps for party wear. Serviceability has not sacrificed to style, and neither has been sacrificed for the sake of price. Shoes which hold their shape and style as long as you wear them. And whose workmanship and material are such that you wear them for many a day longer, are actually less expensive than those which do not measure up to these requirements. At a well attended meeting held yesterday by the Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church quite an enjoyable time was had, quilting being the main diversion during the day. The "Sing" which was given Thursday evening in the Glenwood High school auditorium by grade children of the three schools of the village was quite pleasing and was enjoyed by a large audience, practically every seat in the auditorium being occupied. Much praise is due Miss Gertrude Schmidt, musical director who has been coaching the children for the occasion, for the success of the "Sing."

Rev. John L. Blinn, pastor of the Christian church has arranged for a combined service Sunday morning beginning at 9 o'clock at which time he will preach especially to the young people of the church. All young people of the village are cordially invited and strangers are welcome.

Fat People Have Perverted Taste

Proof That Arbolone Removes Craving for Wrong Foods Dissolves and Eliminates Fatty Tissues Harmlessly

Any Anti-Fat treatment that fails to correct the perverted appetite and craving for the very foods which make fat is certain to fail of permanent results. Mark that fact well! Five grain tablets Arbolone removes the craving for undesirable, fatty foods, restores natural appetite and digestion, while it dissolves fatty accumulations in the body and eliminates slowly but surely, without weakening or other evil effects.

Mrs. L. Holly, Imperial, Calif., writes: "Kind Sirs: Have taken your Arbolone Tablets for obesity and in seven months reduced from 205 pounds to 152 pounds. I cannot say enough for them, and anybody who is fat should take them. My health is better than ever."

Tablets Arbolone enjoy the largest sale of any obesity medicine, and they deserve it. Sold by all well stocked druggists in sealed tubes with full directions.

Just PATA-CAKE and Water

That's all you need for a perfect cake!
Each package contains enough eggs, sugar, flour, milk, baking powder, shortening, and flavoring to bake a perfect cake.

Each ingredient is carefully tested and must measure up to the highest standard of purity. Each ingredient is carefully measured and all of them are proportioned so that you are always sure of a good cake.

You can make any kind of a cake—layer cake, loaf cake, or cup cake. You can add nuts or raisins. You can use any sort of filling. The way you use or serve your cake is a matter of personal taste—but the unvarying goodness of Pat-a-cake is a fixed fact.

It only takes two minutes to mix one package of Pat-a-cake with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of water—pour it into greased tins and bake—and you have as good a cake as you ever baked when you fussed and fumed and went to all the trouble of mixing a cake the old-fashioned uncertain way.

Pat-a-cake is covered by an unequalled money-back guarantee—but we have never had to refund one cent! Get your Pat-a-cake at your grocer's today!

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Dear Miss Wise—I would like for you to answer this question for me as soon as you can. Can a fellow get his marriage license here and get married elsewhere. If so will they put the license in the paper when you go to the court house to get it.

THANK YOU.

You can get the license here and get married elsewhere if you want to. If the license is put on record at the court house it will be copied by our court reporter and published. If you don't want it published you might make arrangements with the license clerk to keep it off the record book for a certain period. It isn't necessary to get your license here if you are not going to be married here.

Dear Dolly—I correspond with a boy away from here but do not care for him except as a friend and I think he feels the same towards me. I write him because I get lonely sometimes. Is it all right to keep on corresponding with him?

LONESOME GIRL.

Yes, the correspondence is all right. It is not necessary to love in order to correspond.

Dear Dolly—Does a girl have to take pains to get married before she can get her picture in the paper? I don't mean the Sunday Times, but all the papers everywhere.

PRITTY FACE.

No, necessarily. If a girl does something of local or national interest, a newspaper likes to show her picture with the story.

Dear Dolly—I am going with a man of 25. He seems to love me but says he cannot marry me on account of a dependent mother who wants him to remain single. She is about 60 and in good health and we will have to wait until she passes away. I am 23 and work hard every day. I am a daughter of a home and family. If I have to wait for years on this man I shall be a fool. What do you think?

Dear Dolly—I have many freckles, light and dark, and am always getting more. What is the very best freckle lotion? I never expose my skin to the sun and wind. This is a serious matter, for all my happiness depends on getting rid of them.

DISCOMBAGED.

Freckles are most difficult to remove. The following paste has proved successful in many cases of stubborn freckles: Take of zinc, one-half dram; salicylic acid, one-half dram; cream, one dram; and one-half dram. Spread the paste upon the freckles at night before going to bed. In the morning remove what remains with a little powdered borax, and wash off. There is no absolute prevention of freckles. However, by way of protection before exposure to the sun or wind, rub in a good cold cream, mix with a soft cloth, and dust with a good toilet powder.

Dear Dolly—I am a neglected married woman. Been married 4 years and my husband will do anything to please me, but he is not affectionate. When I want to be loving and kind he tells me not to bother him. Do you think he is in love with some other woman or what is the matter with him? I love him dearly and would like to have him more affectionate. What shall I do?

NEGLECTED WIFE.

You can judge your husband's loyalty to you by the amount of time he spends at home and the interest he shows in it. There are many cases of men who cease to be affectionate after marriage, but who are loyal to their families and love an old woman. It is a rather hopeless situation. If your husband's nature is not affectionate, affection is born in people. Try not to grieve over that which has been decided upon. You have much for which to be thankful, since your husband is good to you and will set you anything for your pleasure.

NEGLECTED WIFE.

What would you advise me to do?
PERPLEXED.
The man has a wrong conception of duty. Since his mother is dependent upon him he should see that she is provided with as good a home as he is able to give her. But this is possible if he marries. If his mother is selfish enough to wish him to remain single with her he should not gratify that wish. The woman a man loves also has her claim upon him. She is entitled to marriage in early womanhood and to children. If the man does not marry although he loves her, he is neglecting his duty to her. The three of you can make your home together and at least you and the man will be happier. If you are consistent of his mother and try to win her love regardless of what she does, you will succeed in keeping the home happy for all three. Explain to your fiancé that he is depriving you of your right and that he can do his duty to both you and his mother.

WOMEN PLAY BIG ROLL IN THE KANSAS CONVENTION

WICHITA, KAN., April 23.—Women had a large part in the state Democratic convention here. Not only were a woman delegate and a woman alternate elected on the "big four," delegate at-large but two women were among the sixteen delegates elected by the districts and confirmed by the convention and three were among the alternates. The resolutions adopted also made mention of the woman suffrage amendment, and provision was made on the floor that national suffrage would be a reality shortly.

Delegates to the national convention go unrepresented as to the presidential candidate, it was decided. The name of William T. McAdoo was several times cheered and that of Bryan once. A letter from President Wilson to J. M. Shouse, elected today as delegate-at-large, setting forth the League of Nations as a campaign issue, was read to the convention.

The president wrote: "I cannot help thinking that the party is to be congratulated on the fact that it has come to a year of exceptional opportunity and duty. The issue which it is our duty to raise with the voters of the country involves nothing less than the honor of the United States and the redemption of its most solemn obligations; its obligations to its associates in the Great War and to mankind, to whom it gave the most explicit pledge that it went to war, not merely to win a victory in arms, but also to follow up that victory with the establishment of such a concert of nations as would guarantee the permanence of a peace based on justice."

Colonel Sam Amidon of Wichita was elected national committeeman by acclamation. The delegates at large are Mrs. Caroline Brennan, Arkansas City; J. M. Shouse, Kinsley; former Governor George Hodges, Olathe; and Robert W. Blair, Topeka.

A proposed resolution condemning the Kansas Industrial court was tabled. The country must be prepared to see the Democratic convention at San Francisco nominate President Wilson for a third term, J. Hamilton Lewis, former senator from Illinois told the convention in an address tonight.

River Rising Very Slowly

 At two this afternoon the river showed a stage of 48.5 and was about on a stand. The high wind caused the river to be very rough and made the reading of the gauge almost impossible, the "swells" washing way up on the gauge.

The Ohio river continues rising but very slowly.
 At 7 o'clock this morning the river registered 48.1. At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the gauge showed a stage of 47.5, a rise of 1.6 in 15 hours. The rate of rise was so slow this morning that the river will soon be come stationary.

Paternal Friendship
 A curate of a very nervous temperament was constantly making awkward remarks intended as compliments. Having distinguished himself in an unusual degree during a gathering of clergy at the bishop's palace, he was taken to task for his fallacious remarks on the way home. "Look here!" said the senior curate, "you are a doer! Why cannot you keep quiet instead of making your own remarks? Mind you, I am speaking to you now as a brother!"

An April Silk Sale of Note

Last week our silk buyer scoured the New York market in quest of silks for April selling. REFERENDUM PROBLEMS UP BEFORE U. S. SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The supreme court today begins consideration of whether federal amendments must be submitted to the voters for ratification in states having referendum provisions in their constitutions. The question is involved in appeals from Ohio Supreme Court decrees sustaining the state constitutional referendum amendment and dismissing injunction proceedings brought to enjoin submission of the prohibition and women suffrage amendments to popular vote.

The case is the first of its kind to reach the supreme court and upon the court's opinion, it is asserted, would likely depend whether the women of the country would be able to vote at the forthcoming presidential election.

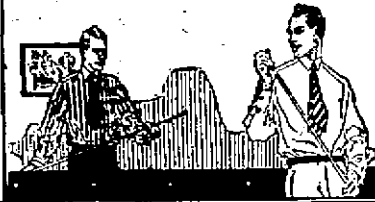

Should the court hold the suffrage amendment must be submitted to a referendum, Ohio would be withdrawn temporarily from the list of states which the secretary of state has certified as ratifying.

It would be impossible, it was said here, to submit the amendment to the voters before next fall.

The supreme courts in eight states already have passed upon the referendum petitions, according to a brief filed today with the court by George S. Hawke, of Cincinnati, who instituted the Ohio proceedings.

In two states, Washington and Ohio, the referendum provisions have been sustained, while in Oregon, Maine, Colorado, Arkansas, California and Michigan, the courts held the provisions void as applied to the acts of their respective legislatures ratifying the prohibition amendment.

The general question was argued at length recently before the supreme court in the prohibition cases. At that time, however, attorneys on both sides admitted that no matter how the court ruled, the prohibition situation would not be affected, as sufficient states already had ratified the amendment without the so-called referendum states.

AND SKIN TROUBLES

ECZEMA YIELDS TO IT

For Skin Troubles that Distress and Disfigure, for Pimples, Old Sores, Chronic Ulcers, Boils, Ringworms, etc., Iodine is an antiseptic and healing remedy largely used by physicians as well as mothers who know from experience in raising their families, the virtues of Iodine. Pimples, and skin troubles that itch and burn, that keep you awake at night and embarrass you by day, should be treated with Iodine to stop their spread and to heal. As a well-known medical authority says: "Germ spread over the face and neck like a prairie fire, producing eczema." But, of course, you can't use organic Iodine. Good medical practice calls for Iodine in its best form—LANOLATED IODINE—an agreeable ointment with all the virtues of organic Iodine but does not irritate, and leaves scarcely a stain. It soothes, penetrates and heals.

Lanolated Iodine is a family remedy for every day use. Recommended not only for troubles of the Skin, but Cuts, Sprains, Wounds and Bruises are happily relieved by this triumph of modern research devised for popular use. Jas. A. Hager, P. M. Stritch or any good druggist will supply you with a good, efficient Iodine. Keep it in the home to relieve yourself and family of many ailments.

The latter opposed the league and objected to instructing the Missouri delegation to the national convention to vote for a plank in the national platform endorsing the league, as recommended by the majority report.

Other resolutions adopted were: "Endorsement of the Democratic administration's conduct of the war; denunciation of the Republican 'post-war' activities; endorsing 'adequate, beneficial legislation' for former service men; 'as outlined by the American Legion'; endorsement of 'the living wage and more' for labor and farming; 'the farmers of the country for their efforts to maintain maximum food production; extension of a welcome to the women of the nation into the Democratic party and an invitation to them to compare the welcome accorded them by the parties, and instructing the Missouri delegation to vote and work for the nomination of David R. Francis for vice president."

In the debate which preceded the vote, Senator Reed was denounced and praised by a number of speakers. Missouri has suffered long, and has been patient, but her hour of vindication has struck, Frank Curlee of St. Louis, said in opening the debate for the opposition.

He declared that "Senator Reed's political offenses antedated his opposition to the league of nations covenant," and asserted that by his course in the senate during the war "the senator 'equivoated and condoned' until he led the country to wonder whether Missouri was not more pro-German than pro-American."

Making the principal address in defense of the senator, Lee Meriwether of St. Louis said:

"We ought to thank God we have a man in Washington who can think for himself and not go to the White House every day to find out how he should stand. There was no Reed in the Roman senate to urge senators to think and so Rome lost its liberties."

The senators entered Luxembourg palace this afternoon with the determination to have finished with the affair, which has taken up their time during the past three months. They began discussion in vigorous, business-like manner presenting a strange contrast to their bored attitude during the closing days of the trial.

No one, however, took seriously the prediction that the verdict would be reached this evening. But after the court had disposed of the high treason charge and that of "intelligence with the enemy," and had declared its own sovereignty in less than four hours, word was passed that a decision was impending and Luxembourg gardens were filled with overflowing in the neighborhood of the palace by dense crowds and police reserves had to be called out.

"I cannot be held responsible for any action the men might take on returning to work," said O'Rourke, after Sawken had delivered the ultimatum. "I will tell them just what he said. I cannot do more than that."

NEW YORK, April 23.—Striking railroad workers in the New York district appealed directly to the railroad managers today for restoration to duty and "settle the strike in the public interest."

NEW YORK, April 23.—Railroad managers today flatly rejected a direct appeal of strikers in the New York district that they be restored to duty with full seniority rights and the strike be settled "in the public interest."

NEW YORK, April 23.—Members of the so-called "outlaw" railroad workers union still on strike in New York and Jersey City, waited today for the "next move" in the struggle, which their leader E. A. McHugh, declared must come from the railroad managers.

More than 5,000 men are out and voted yesterday, according to McHugh, to remain out until the railroad labor board had acted on demands for a general wage increase. This may take several months.

The railroad managers met McHugh's challenge for a "next move" by redoubling their efforts to hire new men to replace the strikers and reiterating their determination to take strikers back only as new employees with loss of their seniority rights. The Erie railroad emphasized this point yesterday by refusing to take back on their old basis 300 men who applied in a body for reinstatement.

What I found out about overalls

"I USED to think that it didn't matter much what sort of overalls I bought. They all seemed the same to me."

"Sometimes they wore well and sometimes they didn't. Likely as not they would pull and bind. I thought that it was all luck—that you couldn't help some overalls being good and others bad."

"Then one day I got a pair that was big and roomy and comfortable. I noticed that they looked right, too. They fitted easy all the time I had them and they wore like iron. Next time I bought a pair like them—and they were just as good."

"The name of those overalls is Blue Buckles. I always buy them now, because I know they'll give me good service."

"I've tried a lot of overalls, but of all I've worn, give me Blue Buckles every time. They always give me good service."

—Fred M. Buckles

Reed Rejected

been early today broke from precedent when the senior United States senator was not elected as a delegate at large to the national convention. The senator, James A. Reed, has been one of the bitterest opponents of the proposed league of nations, and has announced that if chosen as a delegate at large he would not be bound by instructions to vote for a plank endorsing the league.

Governor Frederick D. Gardner, Judge W. W. Graves of Jefferson City, Dr. Burris A. Jenkins, pastor and newspaper man of Kansas City, and Judge John S. Farrington, Springfield, were named delegates at large with half vote each, four women to be named later.

The election of delegates came at the close of what party leaders said was one of the stormiest sessions in Missouri Democratic politics.

Pandemonium greeted the simultaneous reports of majority and minority members of the resolutions committee touching on the league of nations covenant, the former which was adopted, being an endorsement "without reservations," which tends to weaken or nullify the pact, while the latter declared that "Senator Reed's political offenses antedated his opposition to the league of nations covenant," and asserted that by his course in the senate during the war "the senator 'equivoated and condoned' until he led the country to wonder whether Missouri was not more pro-German than pro-American."

Making the principal address in defense of the senator, Lee Meriwether of St. Louis said:

"We ought to thank God we have a man in Washington who can think for himself and not go to the White House every day to find out how he should stand. There was no Reed in the Roman senate to urge senators to think and so Rome lost its liberties."

The senators entered Luxembourg palace this afternoon with the determination to have finished with the affair, which has taken up their time during the past three months. They began discussion in vigorous, business-like manner presenting a strange contrast to their bored attitude during the closing days of the trial.

No one, however, took seriously the prediction that the verdict would be reached this evening. But after the court had disposed of the high treason charge and that of "intelligence with the enemy," and had declared its own sovereignty in less than four hours, word was passed that a decision was impending and Luxembourg gardens were filled with overflowing in the neighborhood of the palace by dense crowds and police reserves had to be called out.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Members of the so-called "outlaw" railroad workers union still on strike in New York and Jersey City, waited today for the "next move" in the struggle, which their leader E. A. McHugh, declared must come from the railroad managers.

More than 5,000 men are out and voted yesterday, according to McHugh, to remain out until the railroad labor board had acted on demands for a general wage increase. This may take several months.

The railroad managers met McHugh's challenge for a "next move" by redoubling their efforts to hire new men to replace the strikers and reiterating their determination to take strikers back only as new employees with loss of their seniority rights. The Erie railroad emphasized this point yesterday by refusing to take back on their old basis 300 men who applied in a body for reinstatement.

"I'm Happiest Woman In City," She Declares

able To Leave Her Bed After Taking Vola-Tonic Two Weeks

DIDN'T EXPECT TO LIVE Health Almost Perfect Now And She Does All Her Housework

"I'm the happiest woman anywhere since I have been taking Vola-Tonic," said Mrs. Mabel Mason, 324 West Seventh street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"I was down in bed suffering intense misery and had been that way for ten weeks when I started taking Vola-Tonic.

"I had influenza and didn't know a well day afterward. I had pains in my head and down my back and intense cramps in my limbs and over my body. I was so weak I couldn't walk. I tried to walk across the room I'd fall over against the wall and couldn't get along at all.

"Finally, I got so bad I had to go to bed and had been there ten weeks when I heard about Vola-Tonic and started taking it.

"Before I had been taking Vola-Tonic two weeks I was up out of bed and feeling fine and doing all my work again. Since then I have taken at least 10 bottles of Vola-Tonic and have kept improving all the time.

"All the pain and misery I used to have in my head and back and limbs is gone. I sleep like a baby every night and feel strong and refreshed when I get up in mornings.

"I eat big meals, too, without a bit of trouble afterward and have gained so much weight that my friends and relatives hardly know me. My strength has come back also and I can do all my housework, even my washing and ironing.

"I can't begin to tell fully what Vola-Tonic has done for me and I want to recommend this medicine to everybody who is sick like me."

Cullum Is Dismissed

John H. Cullum, salesman, 1539 Fifth street, appeared in Municipal court Thursday to answer to a charge of uttering a worthless check to C. A. Warren last September in the sum of $267.

After hearing Cullum's explanation that the check was given in a three-cornered deal in which Warren and A. J. Sheets were interested, the court decided no fraud had been practiced and dismissed the complaint after stating that the case on its face appeared to be more of a civil action rather than criminal.

Senator Harding

Columbus, Ohio
April 19th, 1920

My dear Mr. Hard:

There ought to be no doubt in any Republican voter's mind about my earnest desire for the election of yourself and Mr. McManis as delegates to the Chicago Convention.

I recall very well my satisfaction when I learned that the district conference had selected you and Mr. McManis for candidates, and I was rejoiced to make the certification which the primary election law requires. There can be but one effective way in promoting the candidacy of an Ohio Republican for president. In district conferences we selected candidates, and as such candidates, I certified them, and our success is contingent on their election.

I have not sought a controversy with such independent candidates as have sincerely declared in my behalf, but the mere act of certification must be ample assurance to my friends as to the effective way of expressing their friendship. Apart from the seemliness of this course, the long standing and intimate friendship existing between us and my high regard for Mr. McManis make further assurances totally unnecessary.

Very Sincerely

(Signed) Warren G. Harding

Indorses and requests the election of James O. McManis and Charles E. Hard as his Sixth District Delegates. Read what he says:

Every voter who wishes to vote at the Primary April 27, for Harding delegates to the Chicago Convention should familiarize himself with their names, so that when presented with the delegate ticket there will be no confusion.

The following are the Harding candidates for delegates from the Sixth Congressional District:—

For Delegates

James O. McManis, of West Union

Every Republican desires Senator Harding to have as his delegates to represent him in the great contest in Chicago in June the men of his choice. Senator Harding in a communication under the date of April nineteenth expresses his earnest desire for the election of James O. McManis and Charles E. Hard as his delegates from the Sixth Congressional District to the Chicago Convention. He says:—

Republicans everywhere in the Sixth District are earnestly appealed to turn out to a man on primary day and vote not only to give Senator Harding the delegates he desires but, without fail, also TO VOTE FOR SENATOR HARDING HIM SELF on the separate Presidential Preferential Ticket.

County Health Notes

Under the Hughes Act amended by the Griswold Act our District Board of Health came into existence and through this board the health interests of the entire county are controlled doing away with the numerous boards in the townships, this brings the operations all under one head and makes the regulations for the entire county uniform. The funds for their operation is obtained from the funds which originally went to the township trustees for health work, this law has not increased your taxes as many throughout the county have thought for as stated above the funds were already in existence.

The desired end to be accomplished are the prevention and control of transmissible diseases, this includes the teaching and enforcement of hygiene, personal, school, industrial, and social, as well as the practice of useful measures of sanitation. A recognition of the population with special reference to the remediable physical defects. The development of effective machinery for the correction of remediable defects in individuals. The creation and fostering of public sentiment, the shaping of legislation looking to the improvement of health conditions, general and local. Enthusiasm, general and local. Dr. Young motored to his camp yesterday morning. He motored back as far as Union Mills and there he found water had risen sufficiently to cover the towpath last night and he was compelled to leave his car on the

MRS. WILLIAMS BIDS FAREWELL TO HEADACHES

Thanks To Nerv-Worth Her Nervousness Also Vanished

Here is an entirely new and very strong signed endorsement. It was given a few days ago to Erie's Nerv-Worth drugist:

"Feiler's Drug Store—My wife has suffered from nervousness and severe headaches for a long time. Could not do anything to relieve her. Had indication and gas would form in her stomach and she would bloat badly. Was tired all the time and could not sleep, but tossed around all night. Was weak and all run down. I got her a bottle of Nerv-Worth and she took it as directed and how all is changed. No more headache, nervousness or restlessness at night. Eats well and digests fine. No bloating. She is gaining every day in strength and weight. We regard Nerv-Worth as a true friend in troubles of this kind and cheerfully recommend it."

R. T. WILLIAMS, 10th and State Sts., Erie, Pa. Ticker & Strick's Pharmacy sells Nerv-Worth in Portsmouth.

The Director of the Bureau of Community Service yesterday received the following letter from the State officials who recently inspected the clinic. Great credit is due to Dr. Wendelken and his staff for the way in which they have been conducting the clinic, and especially, as one inspector said while here, "the human touch Dr. Wendelken puts into his work."

The letter follows: Mr. Edward Gilliland, Director, Bureau of Community Service, Portsmouth, Ohio,

Dear Sir: An inspection was recently made of the venereal disease clinic at Portsmouth, and in view of the fact that it was through the efforts of your Bureau that this clinic was established and is now being maintained, we take this opportunity to inform you of the results of our investigation.

We found that the Portsmouth clinic is well equipped, admirably located, and especially well organized. We feel that this clinic is doing a very creditable and efficient work in your community. Those in charge of the clinic appear to be particularly interested and conscientious, and we believe that every effort should be made, not only to maintain the present high standards, but also to encourage the field of activities of this clinic.

To this end the State Department of Health, and particularly the Bureau of Venereal Diseases, is ready to lend you every co-operation.

Respectfully, R. G. LEHMAN, M. D., Chief, Bureau of Venereal Diseases, A. A. Surgeon U. S. P. H. S.

NATURE BUILDS THE EYEBALLS IMPERFECTLY.

That is the cause of most of the errors of vision. And nature never corrects these imperfections. If the eyeball is the least bit too long or too short, or if it is imperfectly shaped, it is going to remain in that condition. All that can be done is to cause the eyes to focus as nearly normal as possible. And that can be done ONLY by wearing the proper glasses. Eye help here for all who need it.

DR. THOMAS AND ROUDEBUSH ENDORSED

At an enthusiastic meeting last night the National Democratic convention, the Democratic Central committee, enthusiastically endorsed Dr. G. Frank Thomas, Adams county and G. F. Roudeshush, Clermont county, as delegates from this, the Sixth District, to

There is a three cornered fight on the two delegations, A. G. Thompson, West-Union being the local candidate, and the action of the local committee in approving the candidacies of Thomas and Roudeshush followed the lead taken by the Adams county committee recently through its endorsement of these two men.

Dr. Thomas, who is a brother of Judge James S. Thomas of this city, is a prominent physician at Peebles and is quite well and favorably known here. Although a lifelong Democrat he has never before sought political honors and no doubt he will receive a big vote in Scioto county next Tuesday.

Mr. Roudeshush is an attorney at Batavia and formerly represented his district in the Ohio Senate. He is an active Democrat and has rendered valuable service to his party in the past. The meeting last night which was held at Democratic headquarters in the Kricker building was well attended and ringing talks were made by chairman William N. Gableman, Secretary Will West, Safety Director St. Straus and others in which they urged Democrats to go to the polls next Tuesday. A special effort is to be made to get out the vote.

Art Criticism.
A concealed painter in Brooklyn named Titton, carried away by his enthusiasm for his own productions, declared at a studio tea to a group of his devotees: "After all, there are but three great painters—Titton, Tittonetto and Titton." When the remark was repeated to Mrs. W. W. Storey, mother of the eminent painter, Julian Storey, she exclaimed: "Well, the only thing I know to equal the 'Assumption' of Titton is the assumption of Titton."

Yardmen Reported Back On The Job At Ashland

Relative to the strike situation at Ashland the Huntington Herald-Dispatch this morning said:
Striking yardmen who have been out at Ashland for the last ten days returned to work yesterday. But four employees are said to have refused the offer of the company to accept their old positions back.
Strikers at Russell and Silver Grove were still out last night. The number of trains moving westward is increasing daily and the amount of freight reaching Huntington from western points also has shown a decided increase in the last two days.

Norfolk and Western employees have until today to resume their old jobs. Men who do not return at the specified time will be considered out of the service, according to an official announcement by the railroad company.

New Trustees Are Named

Frank V. Knauus has been appointed by the County Commissioners as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Scioto County Children's Home to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Otto Zoellner.

Mrs. William H. Schwartz has also been reappointed as a member of the board for a term of five years. The other members are Mrs. Irving Drex and H. E. Taylor.

Police News

To Face Assault Charge

Thomas Tipton will appear before Judge Small in Municipal court today to answer to a charge of assaulting James Allen, of Third street yesterday. The latter then made complaint to the officers and Allen was ordered into court.

Alfred Seage, Earltown showworker, charged in a complaint with obtaining $22 from W. M. Holbrook under false pretenses, appeared last night and squared his trouble.

Martha Holloway was the name given by a woman arrested at 2 a. m. by Capt. Leo Startzman for the alleged disorderly conduct. The woman, who gave her address as 2938 Walnut street, East Portsmouth, was released on bond for her appearance in Municipal court.

George Hawkins, a peg-legged negro, was the only offender caught by the police last night. He was picked up in the vicinity of the N. and W. depot for intoxication.

Lift Off Corns!
Doesn't hurt! Lift touchy corns and calluses right off with fingers

Apply a few drops of "Freezone" upon that old, bothersome corn. Instantly that corn stops hurting. Then shortly you lift it right off, root and all, without pain or soreness.

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes, and the hard skin calluses on bottom of feet lift right off—no lambs!

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, April 23—Selected issues, notably independent steels made substantial additions to yesterday's rally at the opening of today's stock market. Despite the fact that the chief feature of the market was the chief feature, 4,000 shares changing hands at 61 to 63, an extreme overnight advance of 7 points. Shipbuilding, oil, motors and sugars reflected further covering of short contracts and rails gave promise of greater activity at moderate gains. Part of the advance was cancelled within the first hour when United States Steel and Baldwin Locomotive became reactionary.
The market became dull when prices developed an irregular trend. Announcement that the Philadelphia Federal Reserve bank had advanced its discount rate on treasury certificates probably contributed to the curtailment of business. Further scattered selling representing belated liquidation from interior points was reported by commission houses. United States steel closed almost 2 points, Crucible steel 4 1/2; General Motors 5 and several of the equipments and shippings one to three and a half points. Much of this loss was recovered and a number of actual gains were made by specialists when call loans opened at seven percent. All heavy bonds were better, the first 4 1/2 gaining one percent. Further liquidation of long accounts and renewed pressure from shorts caused extreme reactions of 2 to 10 points in speculative stocks today. Sales approximated 1,300,000 shares. The closing was weak.

CLOSING PRICES OF CHICAGO GRAIN
COLUMBUS, O., April 23—Closing: (Cable service common 3.65 to 3.75; do preferred 55 to 60; Ohio gas 39 1/2 last sale.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS
CHICAGO, April 23—Urgent European demand for breadstuffs attracted considerable notice today as a bullish factor in the corn market. Opening quotations which ranged from one cent decline to 1/2 advance with May 1.05 to 1.16 and July 1.02 1/2 to 1.13 1/2 were followed by a decided general upward trend, something of a reaction. Prices closed narrow, 1/2 to 1 1/2 net lower, with May 1.05 1/2 to 1.06 and July 1.07 1/2 to 1.08 1/2.
Oats ascended with greater swiftness than corn owing more to lack of offerings than to any great buying. After opening 5 1/2 to 2 1/2 up including July at 85 to 86 1/2, the market climbed a little further before any set back began.
Provisions reflected the advance of grain. Most of the trading was in lard.

Lessons Learned by Deep-Sea Divers
Experiments made by the British navy and the United States navy prove that deep-sea diving is feasible. It has been found that the shorter the time a diver takes in getting to the bottom the better, because the less he absorbs less nitrogen. Also the diver must have at least one and one-half cubic feet of air per minute at 20 fathoms. Lacking the legs of the diver suit increases his stability and prevents him from coming to an erect position and falling or being suddenly blown to the surface. Popular Science Month.

Value Placed On Big Farms

The federal jury in the Camp Sherman condemnation proceedings against John P. Phillips, Chillicothe lawyer, at Columbus yesterday decided that the two farms over which the price dispute had originated were worth $100,000. The Chillicothe farm of 117 acres was valued at $50,000; the Harman farm of 130 acres at $100,000; and some loss involved at $5,000. The Chillicothe Gazette says that the case will probably be carried to the United States Court of Appeals. The Harman case will be taken up in the same court next Tuesday.

Primary In Montana

HELENA, Mont., April 23.—Montana republicans voted today in a presidential preference primary with the names of Senator Harding of Ohio, Herbert Hoover, Senator Johnson of California, Governor Lowden of Illinois, and Major General Leonard Wood on the ballot. The democrats had no presidential candidate, although Governor Sam V. Stewart of Montana was an unopposed candidate for preference for the vice presidential nomination.

Under the state law delegates to the national convention must abide by the presidential preference expressed by the voters.

Chief interest, according to republican leaders, centered in the fight within the republican party. There were 28 candidates for delegates, of whom eight had been repudiated by the chairman and secretary of the state central committee. In published statements the eight were alleged to be candidates for the national party and to have been selected because their names began with letters near the top of the alphabet. See Their Uniform Mileage Through Your Motor's Eye

That Long-Distance Service Every Miller Gives

We pay our respects to the motor car's motor—in its proving that, after three, Miller tires, under the conditions, wear alike. That, the after tire, they are long-distance runners.

This Miller feat of producing Uniform Tires is much discussed. Occurrence it requires the choicest rubber and fabric. But more than that, the workmen must be trained to build alike.

That is what the Miller factory has accomplished. And that is why we feature Miller Tires. By giving you exceptional mileage, we know we are saving your money.

Remember, please, fair charges and quick service go with everything we sell.

"I also learned that other railroads were advertising for switchmen without success. There are no new developments in the local situation so far as we are concerned. We are still out 150 per cent," Mr. Krall said this morning.

Daughter (cheerfully)—"And didn't you say, once, mother that it used to take you two weeks to go from New York to Chicago?"—Tale Record.

3 Million Dollars but— It bought MUSIC

No finer example of courage is known to the world of science than Thomas A. Edison's work in perfecting the phonograph. The skeptics rose in full chorus when he proposed a better phonograph—an instrument "that could produce music as human as the artists who first gave it utterance."

Mr. Edison's experiments exhausted the entire field of research in sound reproduction. He built and rebuilt until his final, perfected model cost him Three Million Dollars.

And the result?

Ask some one who attended the Criterion Quartet recital last Friday evening. There was the public proof. The Criterion Quartet sang in comparison with the RE-CREATION of their voices by the New Edison. And no one could distinguish the living voices from their RE-CREATION.

The New Edison "The Phonograph with a Soul"

If you love music, you will agree with Friday's enthusiastic audience:—The New Edison represents Three Million Dollars well spent.

The soul of song is cheap at any price. Yet it is now brought within reach of your pocketbook. The instrument used in Friday's conclusive test is a duplicate of Mr. Edison's Three Million Dollar Model. It sells for $295 (in Canada, $431.)

Millions Of Tiny Germs Cause Your Catarrh

Real Relief Comes Only by Cleansing Blood of These Germs.
Catarrh comes from a disease germ that finds lodgment in the blood, and makes itself manifest by spreading its attack of poisonous irritation to the delicate linings of the nose, throat, and air passages. These become stopped up by the inflammation of the mucous membranes, making it difficult for you to breathe, and you are constantly hacking and spitting in an effort to clear the clogged-up nostrils and get relief.

You must realize that your blood is loaded down with catarrh germs, and these germs must be removed from your blood before you can expect real, rational relief from the disease. And of course, you know that you cannot reach these germs in your blood with sprays and douches.

Experience has proven that S. S. S. is the best remedy for Catarrh, because it is a fine old blood remedy that tends to free the blood of all disease germs. S. S. S. will cleanse your blood of the cause of Catarrh, and give real relief. It has been in constant use for more than fifty years, and is sold by all druggists. Buy a bottle today and lose no further time in getting on the right treatment.
Valuable literature or special advice regarding your own case will be furnished free of charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 161 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

To Form Two Leagues

Representatives of the teams to be in the new baseball league, met last night at the Standard Supply Co. office, and laid definite plans for the base ball season. It was decided to form two leagues of four teams each, in preference to one league of eight teams. The two leagues to play each other in a post season series. Both leagues are to use the same grounds, and the same executive committee, composed of a delegate from each firm represented, and the same rules are to govern both leagues. This arrangement was made so that rivals could meet each other often. Edw. S. Gilfillan was elected joint secretary for the two leagues. York Park was decided on as the ground. The season will run twelve weeks, beginning about May 10. Each team will play once a week. Twilight ball will be played, holidays will be avoided. A rules committee consisting of Edw. S. Gilfillan, chairman, Walter Haas, Portsmouth Hat Co., Carl Blankensmyer, Gilbert Grocery, Fred Jeffords, Hibbs Hardware, J. G. Tenny, Standard Supply, C. A. Burnett, Leet Lumber, H. E. Amundsen ice for nearly two years in Parker Snow Bay, just behind Cape George on the way to the northwest coast of Greenland.

For more than 19 months the silence of polar seas have shrouded the vessel that-bore Roald Amundsen and his shipmates in the endeavor to reach the North Pole.

Amundsen's vessel, the Maude, took on oil at Divson Island in the White Sea about September 1, 1918, and soon after sailed off to the northeast through the rapidly freezing Arctic.

It was the explorer's plan to drive the ship as far northward as he could, then to lodge her in the ice and permit her to be dragged along with the enormous floes.

Studies of Arctic ice had been made by Amundsen who believed his ship would be carried around the northern end of Nova Zembla and thence eastward to the vicinity of the Litor islands off the delta of the Lena river on the northern Siberian coast.

He believed the ice would be driven to the northward and thought it would take him near the north pole.

There is some uncertainty as to the exact point reached by Amundsen in Siberia. Anadir is not the name of a town but of a river which rises north-west of Kamchatka and flows eastward, emptying into the Pacific.

To reach this river by the sea he would have been forced to go through Behring Strait, between Siberia and Alaska.

Battle Lines

Presence of the Tagulis and Meyos in eastern Sonora was said to indicate the state government expected its fiercest battle in this section.

The Indians are described as the best fighters in Mexico. All are veterans of hard campaigns and many of them fought in the last revolution, which raised President Carranza to power.

The proclamation General P. Elias Calles, commander-in-chief of the Sonora army announced he would issue today, was awaited with some interest. He said upon his arrival here last night that the Sonora movement had resulted in establishment of a new party in Mexico, "the new party of progress," and that his statement would be issued in behalf of it and Sonora.

Military intelligence officers of Sonora at Nogales made public today an alleged attempt of Carranza officials to lure employees of the Sonora customs service to the federal side. It was charged many were offered pay to leave the Sonora government, and some did leave.

Passports issued to Americans citizens and used by Carranza officials are not being accepted by Sonora immigration officials. Americans now are compelled to have new passports issued and used by the Sonora commercial agents, who act as consuls at border cities in the United States.

Andreas Garcia, postmaster-general of Mexico, at Laredo yesterday characterized the Sonora revolt against the Carranza government as of "slight importance," and said it is lamentable that the American press is giving such "prominence to the sonora situation."

The annual meeting of the Vulcan Last company stockholders scheduled for Thursday was adjourned until May 3 on account of several stockholders being absent from the city.

Varies Climate, Varied Habits.

Natives of hot climates who spend much time in the water rarely use soap except for a shave or shampoo. The Equinians is a reckless bather during the fishing season, when he is forced to wade to disentangle his nets, but his wife and family think handling wet nets involves them from further bathing rites.

Arizona's Buried Treasure.

What is believed to be the first clue to the reported buried treasure of the padres of the Tumacacori mission, built by the Spanish Jesuits high up in the Tumacacori mountains, less than three hours' journey from Tucson, has been discovered by Frank Pinckley, custodian of the ruins. It is the gateway to the mission cemetery. From this gateway, it is said, the plans and maps left by the padres start to outline the way to the buried gold and silver. The Tumacacori mission was built near what are believed to be the ruins of one of the Seven Cities of Cibola. The center region is said to show evidence of rich mineral deposits, which, declare those who have inspected the mountains, convinced led the padres to build their mission there.

One day Marjorie was the proud possessor of a yellow balloon. She and her little friend Ethel were perched on the porch and Ethel begged to be allowed to hold the string, promising not to let the string go out of her hands. Marjorie passed the string over to her friend, who had held it securely a second when a sudden gust of wind whisked the balloon from her grasp, carrying it out from under the roof where the little yellow ball began to ascend rapidly, growing smaller and smaller. Marjorie was crying heart-brokenly. "Don't cry, Marjorie," consoled Ethel, "your balloon will do straight up to God and when you die you can see up and get it."

Vote For WARREN G. HARDING---Ohio's Choice For President

J. M. McMANIS

WARREN G. HARDING © HARRIS & EWING

CHARLES E. HARD

Mr. McManis, of Adams County, is a self made man, and has worked himself up by industry and application to an honorable and commanding position in business life. He is considered one of the liberal minded, substantial and progressive men of the district. He is an earnest and fearless Republican, and has been true to every trust imposed on him.

Mr. Hard is a life long citizen of Scioto County, and was one of the founders of the Royal and Citizen's Building and Loan Associations, which institutions have made it possible for thousands of workmen to own their own homes. He has spent thousands of dollars for labor and materials in building houses, and as Postmaster, he alone secured an enlargement of the federal building, with its consequent expenditures for labor and building materials. In this way and as Editor of the Blade he is one of the men who has helped make Portsmouth progressive.

These are the type of men whom Senator Harding has personally selected and endorsed to represent him at the Chicago convention. They can be depended upon, they are earnest Republicans, they will not change their faith over night, and as they are men who have done things, they can be trusted in the future.

The whole country is waiting to see what will be the size of the majority Ohio will give Senator Harding next Tuesday. Scioto County has always done her part by the distinguished sons of Ohio, and it is expected that she will rally to the support of Senator Harding. Pay no attention to roorbacks. Let every Republican go to the polls next Tuesday and help make another Ohio man the next PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Last Night Of Revival

Last evening the First Baptist church was filled to overflowing at the revival services which are being conducted by Dr. T. H. McAfee. After a short baptismal service Dr. McAfee delivered a strong message directed especially to the young men in the audience. One of the pleasing features of the evening was a solo by Miss Hazel Mills who very beautifully sang "Just As I Am" sung to the music of "The Rosary" by Nevin.

Tonight will be the closing service of the revival at the First Baptist church and the last opportunity of hearing Dr. McAfee. All new members of the church will be received at this service when Dr. McAfee will extend to them, on behalf of the church, the right hand of Christian Fellowship. Much good has come out of the services the past two weeks and they have been pronounced a complete success in every respect. The messages that Dr. McAfee has delivered have been helpful and inspiring to all who have had the pleasure of hearing him. Upward of fifty souls have been led to Christ and many within the church have been inspired to put forth renewed effort to do their part toward the advancement of the Kingdom.

Tonight, in appreciation of the work of Dr. McAfee during these meetings, a special offering will be taken up and presented to Dr. McAfee.

Service tonight will begin at 7:15.

Simple Explanation

Why is it that fishes make no disturbance when swimming through the water, although there is a rushing noise when a stone is flung in? This is explained by the fact that, in the latter case, it is the filling of the cavity that is made, rather than the mere impact, which causes the noise, whereas the body of the fish is so shaped that when it moves through the water it leaves no such cavity behind it and therefore there is no disturbance.

NEW YORK SOCIETY HAS A BIG DAY WHEN FLORA WHITNEY BECOMES BRIDE

The bride and her father, Harry Payne Whitney, entering church just before ceremony.

The greatest social event of the season in New York was the recent wedding of Miss Flora Payne Whitney, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, to Roderick Tower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maguire Tower of Philadelphia, Pa. Shortly after the ceremony the bride and bridegroom left for San Francisco; thence they will go to Honolulu, where Mr. Tower has chartered a yacht.

Sting Is Bee's Defense.

The sting of the bee is not only not as dangerous as it is generally considered, but it literally makes beekeeping possible. A stinging bee is not to be desired, for its colonies would have to be closely guarded, while the stinging bee is his own defense. Beekeepers are wont to place colonies several miles from their homes on bits of waste land which they can rest from farmers for a few pounds of honey. They visit them perhaps once a week. There are therefore who will club into a second story window despite the fact that a revolver may be waiting for them, and others who specialize in planting bulldozers, but the successful bee-birer plan has yet to appear.

Man's First and Last Things

One of the first things a child wants to do is to get its hands on a lead pencil and make some zigzag marks on a sheet of paper, which it usually tells its happy mother is a letter to daddy. About the last thing an old man thinks of doing is to get an old stump of a lead pencil and tremblingly make notes for his lawyer, indicating to whom he wants to will his property.

Low Living In India.

Christianity has extraordinary power, to unite, uplift, relieve India; preaching is necessary, but rapid growth depends on its passing from neighbor to neighbor in a community. Our little school men live on rice at 5 cents a day; speak out with eloquence and force, stimulate each other in the work; and soon graduate and are out as preachers. The mission unites them for a new life, rouses them to higher thought, fills them with gravest purpose. The spirit which has fallen upon them divides to every man as he wills, and a nation seems indeed to be born in a day, not is anything impossible to them that believe.

What Birthmarks Indicate.

Growth

Married people should try to learn how to grow towards each other. No human thing, marriage least of all, can be allowed to grow untended. It takes pains and thought, as well as selfishness, to grow good marriages. Woman's Magazine.

Felt Himself a Stranger.

John was anxious to see his new brother, who had just arrived. The nurse finally took him to the bedside and the new brother was crying. John looked bewildered and finally said, "He is crying for his own folks."

The Eyes

If children were taught better care of their eyes there would be less work for the oculists. Rubbing the eyes with the fists or straining them in a bad light, or bending too near the work, all make the vision poor and call for glasses and treatments. It strengthens the eyes to wash them occasionally, many people advise washing the eyes every morning along with the bath. The best eye wash consists of a teaspoonful of boracic acid dissolved in a quart of distilled or boiled water; or a pinch of salt added to a small teaspoonful of water. Rubbing the eyes from side to side strengthens the muscles and tends slightly to make the eyes larger. But this is an exercise that should only be tried when the eyes are feeling fresh, as it stimulates. When the eyes are tired this wash, or a bath of hot water, with a sponge or cloth soaked in hot water held right over the eyes, is the best plan. For this will bring the blood to the eyes, and the heat will soothe the nerves.

and spent nearly all his life in the home where he died. He followed farming and was successful in this line. He was a very congenial man, with a bright sunny disposition, was a good neighbor and had a host of very dependable friends, which was demonstrated by the number of friends that followed his remains to his last resting place. SOCIETY

St. Boniface church, Cincinnati, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday, April 21, when Miss Helen Polz was united in marriage to Mr. Edward Glockner of this city. The color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the decorations of the church and the home. The maid of honor, Miss Helen Glockner, sister of the groom, was attired in a dainty toilette of lowered georgette over yellow and wore a becoming hat of georgette of colors blending with her costume and carried a shower of yellow and white roses.

The groomsmen, R. F. Fox, and others, Leo and David Polz, are all brothers of the bride.

The program of wedding music was rendered by the regular church organist. The bride was beautiful in a bridal gown of white satin trimmed in embroidery and pearls, fashionably short with train. A gray veil enveloped the costume and the shower bouquet of bride's roses and sweet peas.

Father Smith read the wedding service and was assisted by two other priests in celebrating nuptial mass. A reception and wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, where the color-scheme was carried out in yellow and white. The bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Pittsburgh and other points, after which they will be at home in Portsmouth, in a cozy house at 500 Second street, which is being modernized and made attractive by the groom. adapted to the screen by a newspaper man. They have put real newspaper atmosphere into a dramatic story which gives the average person a glimpse behind the scenes of a reporter's life. UNIVERSAL

Now For Thrills, Mystery and Adventure—the Eastland Theatre offers Corinne Griffith in "Deadline at Eleven" for Tomorrow—The First real Newspaper Picture Ever Produced.

The Eastland offers as its attraction tomorrow, the beautiful Vitaphone star, Corinne Griffith in her latest picture "Deadline at Eleven," a thrilling story of newspaper life. A newspaper office and the life of the average person. There is a certain mystery about compiling a daily paper. Reporters witness all kinds of queer events, frequently solve murder mysteries and do all sorts of thrilling things. "Deadline at Eleven" was written by a newspaper woman and Should a Husband Forgive? A William Fox Super-Production, Columbia Tonight and Tomorrow.

Love, horse-racing, fighting, intrigue, trickery and other sensational issues are combined convincingly in "Should a Husband Forgive?" the big William Fox special shown for the first time here at the Columbia yesterday. In this superbly staged picture of modern life

L. A. Walsh, who wrote and directed it, has done some of the best work of his career. It is a story of keen human interest woven into a heroic sized panorama.

The question asked by "Should a Husband Forgive?" is a big one. A shadow is cast across some lives and over the threshold of others because a good wife assumes that husbands do not forgive. The shadow lengthens when years later the woman's son, infected with the common virus of propaganda, gives up the girl he loves, because appearances are against her. The happy end is logical.

The all-star cast is uniformly strong. Mrs. James E. Hackett plays the Woman; and Miriam Cooper will know the heroine of other big scale productions is seen as the Girl.

Extra Special Return Engagement—A The Eastland Theatre Tonight—"The Romance of Tarzan." The Romance of Primeval Man And Woman A Modern Maid Meets Jungle Wilds And Palms. —Don't Miss It

A special return engagement of that greatest of all pictures "The Romance of Tarzan" will be had at the Eastland tonight in the presentation of this mighty 7 act drama of jungle life. Taken from the book by Edgar Rice Burroughs and starring Elmo Lincoln, this great production offers everything necessary to a fine photoplay.

A portion of the first reel of the first reel of the "Romance of Tarzan" is used to review "Tarzan of the Apes," glimpsing the most striking incidents in the earlier story, so that those who have not seen it may follow the present tale with full understanding.

The old tale merges into the new in the cabin in the forest where "Tarzan of the Apes" ended. From this point on "The Romance of Tarzan" carries the lovers through the wildest courtship of fictional history. In the vernacular of the film business, there is jungle, sea, city, street, mountain, desert, and water stuff. With Tarzan's sensational rescue of his mate from abductors in a frontier gambling house, starts a rapid-fire series of scenes involving riding, society sets in home, ballroom and hotel, vampire stuff, sensational gang fighting, love scenes, etc.

lively chain of events. Humble and romance are not overlooked in the story, and the Carey smile is much in evidence throughout.

Also a comedy and scenic travesty.

AN INTRODUCTION

By A. W. PEACOCK.

(Copyright 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Elliot Moore was standing in the crowded west-bound car and planning what he would do for the evening. He was not conscious of his neighbors except that close beside him as he looked down from his six feet he could see under a small, child hat the curve of a girlish cheek.

Suddenly he was stung into action. Something had been thrust into his trousers pocket and withdrawn. One plunge of his hand and he knew that his pocket-book with a clear week's salary had been stolen.

"Somebody has sneaked my pocket-book," he said sharply to the conductor. "Someone on this car. Don't let a soul off until I get a cop!"

Excitement filled the car. Tired as they were, all viewed the turn of events with interest.

At the same time a man in a gray suit came crowding forward and a voice spoke up sharply: "I think that young fellow next to you did the trick, sir!"

The man in gray caught her shoulder. "I am on the force, my friend, and I will take charge," he said to Elliot.

"Young lady, have you a pocket-book?" Even as he spoke he yanked a wallet from the pocket of her suit. He held it out to Elliot. "That yours?"

Elliot nodded.

"Well, I guess we have another one of them," the gray man said. "Get off here at the station and I can let you go soon." He said again to Elliot.

Not until the slight girl had been led from the car and the car had come did she seem to recover from the shock of the charge.

"What are you going to do with me? I did not 'take that wallet'!" she cried in a half-whispering, sobbing voice, trying to draw her arm away.

"You better go with us without a fuss, young lady, for go you will whether you want to or not!" the plain-clothes man said sharply.

The light from the street lamp fell upon her face and Elliot saw that she was nothing more than a mere girl, badly frightened, and looking weary beyond any weariness he knew. Under the small hat her girlish face, wide in spite of the strain upon it, looked him.

"Can't we fix it up here?" he asked. "Don't let her get away with any such stuff, young man. They're old hands at the job stuff."

They went in and found themselves facing an officer who was deep in a newspaper. He looked up with a scowl as he saw them.

"Well, Edwards, what is it?" he asked of the detective.

Edwards explained and handed over the pocket-book. The lieutenant at the desk turned it over. In his hand, "Found on her, eh? Well, it's his!" he said. "I suppose you know what's in it?" he asked Elliot.

Elliot had been watching the girl. She stood, white-faced, tearless, her dark, wide eyes staring.

Quietly he named off articles and money—that were not in the wallet.

The man at the desk looked at him with cold, shrewd eyes. "This wallet does not contain the stuff you mention."

The girl stiffened as if with shock. Her stricken eyes turned to Elliot.

"Then I shorn it. Some mistake has been made," Elliot said easily. "I suggest the pocket-book be returned to the lady. Somebody else got away with mine. This looked like mine, but mine is a common type. The minute is mine. My wallet has disappeared, so I doubt."

"No doubt," the officer said drily. "You two leave your names and addresses and then you may go. Here is your wallet, young lady." He handed it to her with a polite gesture.

She took it with fumbling fingers and they went out together.

She walked unsteadily, and he held her with one hand under her small, round wrist. They reached the corner in silence; then she turned with a quick, indignant breath.

"It is your pocketbook! You know it! You did it just to save me!" She held the wallet out to him. "You must not think I did it. But I—here is the wallet. Take it—please, please!"

He quailed her. "No! I have a hunch that the chap who did pinch it can be caught when he held it tightly in the car and he slipped the wallet into your pocket and then called attention to you. The more I think about it the more certain I am."

"Do you really think so?" she questioned.

"Now look here, little girl," he answered soothingly. "I am sure of it. Say, we have both missed our supper. There's a restaurant over there. Let's go over and forget our troubles. Come on!"

"But—"

"There are no 'buts,'" he answered. "You are tired out, and you need a bit of rest anyway; and besides I want to see more of you!"

It was a girl's tired voice, but it was some way hidden and faint with pleasure, that answered him. "Do you really? I wonder if I am worth seeing more of."

He smiled as he tucked her arm under his. "Let me be the judge," he looked down into her weary little face, that was shining faintly with pleasure. "I am alone in this whole of a big city."

"And so am I," she added as it to herself.

"Then let's not be any longer!" he said with finality.

Galvani To Awaken Man From 24 Hour Sleep Tonight

Tonight, during the performance at the Eastland Theatre Galvani will awaken the man he put into a hypnotic sleep for 24 hours at last night's performance. Hundreds viewed the sleeping man in Bradford's window last night and today. He will be brought to the theatre in an ambulance to-night and will be awakened on the stage. This performance tonight will be a special show don't miss it.

A rare treat was in store for those who witnessed the performance of Galvani last night. To say that his demonstrations are wonderful is putting it mildly—mystery, amusement, wonder and amazement are combined results of one of the most remarkable performances ever seen on any stage, and tonight it is to be confidently expected that the theatre will be crowded to its capacity. It would be hard to describe Galvani's entertainment fully and do him justice, and the best advice that we can offer those who have not

Three Shows At The Sun

The third and last miniature musical comedy in the repertoire of the Oriental Maid, one of the best companies of its kind that has come to Portsmouth this season, will be presented at the Sun theatre today and Saturday. There was a complete change of comic opera and photoplay offering at the matinee this afternoon. Three big shows are being presented on one program at the Sun this week—musical comedy, vaudeville and motion picture features.

Mae La Porte Coming To Sun

Only two shows a day—a matinee each afternoon and one performance each night, the latter at 8:15 o'clock—will be the policy at the Sun theatre during the two weeks' engagement of the Mae La Porte Stock Co., starting Monday afternoon. But each of these performances will last at least two hours and thirty minutes, as each dramatic offering to be given by the La Porte Organization will be a full-sized production, one of the reigning successes of the last season, produced in Portsmouth exactly as first seen at the big playhouses of Greater New York.

Cooper And Carey May Be Traded For Bill Doak And Roger Hornsby

TYPICAL SCENES IN FREIGHT AND PASSENGER DEPOTS AS TRANSPORTATION LINES ARE PARALYZED BY STRIKE

These scenes, common in all railroad centers, show freight piled up at West Shore railroad station, N. J., and waiting crowd at Pennsylvania station, New York city. Two yards in foreground are enjoying a new look.

PITTSBURGH, Penn., April 23.—One of the biggest baseball deals of recent times is in the making according to reports which gained wide circulation in financial circles here today.

The names of Roger Hornsby, Bill Doak, Max Carey and Wilbur Cooper are linked in the deal. The report says Barney Dreyfus will send Cooper, pitcher and Carey, considered one of the best outfielders in the National League to St. Louis, in exchange for Doak, a pitcher and Hornsby, shortstop.

Cooper is said to have long been dissatisfied with his Pirate berth. Carey, it is said, has been a holdout almost every season for the past several years because of differences with the Pirate management. Both players are said to have requested on various occasions that they be sent elsewhere, but Dreyfus is said to have held on to them, refusing many cash offers, in hopes of bringing about a deal whereby the Pirates would be strengthened. This year, it is said, with a raft of good outfield material, he decided he could afford to pass Carey if the return warranted it. Hornsby is the return he wants, but the St. Louis Club would not listen to a straight trade. Therefore Cooper was offered. If Doak was thrown in by St. Louis, Cooper is said to be one of the best left-handers in the game, which somewhat balances the scales, although Doak is also considered a top-notch.

Barney's infield is weak, although Catton looks good at short just now.

Determination that was written all over the open countenance of Dr. E. C. Jackson, when he led his Turkeys forth to battle the Red Peppers at the Play House alley last night, was supplanted by a look of disgust when the battle terminated and his team had lost three in a row to Captain Popper and his henchmen—three, Mister, count 'em. And to think such a result obtained when Captain Jackson shot a score of more than 200 for a starter and came through with a total of 522, the second time since '73 that Captain Jackson has secured such a huge sum. The triumphing bawled the Turkeys showed them out of first place so fast you could not tell whether they were turkeys or humans, and you can bet your sweet life and a dozen jinnies that Captain Jackson was so all-fired mad, disgusted, disappointed and gloomy that he could have bitten right through a ten penny nail in a hamburger sandwich. By losing three, his team is well down in the race and George Patton's Scribes are at the top of the pile and ready for anything that comes along. The Red Peppers were three because of the steady work of the entire crew, with a few occasional brilliant shots on the part of Cookes and Johnson, both of whom were well over the 500 mark. The Turkeys lost because the alleged stars on the pay roll floundered around in a fashion that took all the tinsel to the dump pile. Captain Jackson stood it all with a stout heart until the last game, when he assumed an attitude of swiftness—and let 'em go. The scores:

Reds Drop Three In Row

The Reds have now dropped three in a row as they won from the indifferent type, Moran must get better when the season was opened last week. The team is hitting hard and around the top.

EXCELSIORS COP THREE GAMES

More baseball games were pulled both sides. However, by individual effort in the three games played, the Excelsiors and the Solvay Ducks won three games in a row. In the first game, the Excelsiors won 10-0. In the second game, the Excelsiors won 10-0. In the third game, the Excelsiors won 10-0.

SOLVAY DUCK PIN LEAGUE

By taking two out of three games from the Skunks at the Play House Alley, last night, the Buzz Runners ended the season in the Solvay Duck Pin League in a tie for first place with the Wreckers. There was rooting galore, all evening and the Buzz Runners, although not making as much noise as their opponents, managed to cop the first two games. In the last struggle, however, Manager Barton and his crew lost control of their peppy craft and the Skunks nosed them out of the game and the pennant. A series of games will probably be arranged later between the Buzz Runners and the Wreckers to play off the tie. The scores:

DRYING!

This little girl insisted upon getting in the way while mother was doing the washing and finally pulled a tub of water over on herself. Mother, being too busy to change the tub's clothing, hung her up to dry on the clothes line. The youngster seems to be enjoying the experience.

JOHN KIRSCH IS WINNING FAME IN THE NAVY; IS A REAL BOXER

John Kirsch, Portsmouth boy, who is upholding the name of the Peerless City in the Navy, has been advanced from yeoman to boatswain's mate. In a letter to one of his friends, Kirsch, who has been earning a name and title for himself in the "square ring" as a boxer, tells how he lost a hard fought contest recently to Mickey Hayes of the U. S. S. Harding of New York. The bout ended a draw and Kirsch agreed to go one round more. This is the way he tells about the last round: "I counted very poor and missed a couple of leads, in fact it was the poorest round I ever went through. The winner was some fancy stepper."

"I am in hard training and am booked to meet a 150 class man from the U. S. S. Beaver on July 4th. By the way, the other day, I had a workout with a sailor from Dayton. His name was Harry Strine, who boxes in the amateur class. I wish I could get 'Hub' Hewitt to enlist. I know he would make good in the athletic game."

"I hope the old town is still progressing, for I proudly wear her Korn Karibian colors of yellow and green. I have been in Philadelphia a great deal of late."

"We are painting ship next week and there will be a great deal of swabbing of decks. I only wish I had 'Hub' here. I would give him the job of washing down the deck every day, and also Jack Cross. One of my old Portsmouth friends who is in the Navy is down in Cuba. He is Albert Sly on the U. S. S. Nevada. He is also making good and is probably a second-class gunnarmate by this time."

"I have inherited the nickname 'Speed' here. I am taking all the rest I can for I am training to make a few sailors know that there is a place named Portsmouth, O., and that some fine sailors hail from that river port. I can only accomplish this by going over the top July 4, so you can depend on me doing my best. My instructor is teaching me the Willie Meehan system of blocking. By the middle of May I should have a pretty good idea of how to stop any blow directed at any time, any place. I say there is some system to 'Kie Meehan'."

"I am getting interested in navigation and expect to take a special course soon. Gee, there is a lot of difference in pushing a pen and handling a bunch of men."

"My friends can address me: John Kirsch, U. S. S. Wadsworth, Philadelphia, Pa."

SHEPPARD MAY MEET JOHNNY DUNDEE

IRONTON, April 23.—Jack Sheppard, light-weight champion of Ohio, who has been making Ironton his headquarters, left today for Huntington, where he will become assistant matchmaker and athletic director of the Tri-State Athletic Club, and will also fight main bouts as often as a suitable opponent can be secured to face him.

On May 3rd, Sheppard may be pitted against Johnny Dundee, ring veteran and first rate, and if the promoters of the Tri-State Club fall in line Dundee they will bring either Jack Jawler, Phil Glassman or Benjie Valger to Huntington, and Ironton fans will, on that occasion, have an opportunity of seeing their favorite work out once more.

P. H. S. TRACK TEAM GETS BUSY

With Millbrook field in excellent condition, and the weather ideal the P. H. S. track team had its first actual field work yesterday.

The squad practiced lightly, going through some general "limbering up" tactics.

The standards were set up and the high jump at a low height was practiced, in addition to the javelin and hammer throws.

Practice will continue daily, at Millbrook field.

Important Changes Are Made In Baseball Rules

There were several important changes in the baseball rules during the past winter, and for the benefit of those who have not had the opportunity to keep up with the game, we are presenting a few of the most important changes, so the local fans will have a chance to brush up.

First, pitching deliveries excepting the spit ball are barred. The moist delivery will be permitted until fall, then it will be a thing of the past. Many of the pitchers who have depended on the spit ball as their main source of fooling the hitters, are seeking new deliveries.

Catchers are not allowed to step from behind the plate to aid in an intentional pass. The rule keeps the pitcher from giving a pass to a dangerous hitter when the bases are loaded.

It is up to the umpire to decide whether or not a game shall be postponed on account of rain or cold weather. In the past, everyone from the mascot to the president of the club had a voice in this important part of the pastime.

Gift stolen bases are not to find a place in the box score. In the past, when a team is away out in front and has the game on ice, the catchers let the base runners run wild without making an effort to stop them. In this manner some of the many pile up fine base stealing averages.

One of the fairest rules that has been made provides that with two outs in the last half of the ninth and the score tied, the batter is to be credited with the number of bases that the runner advances on his hit. Thus, a man goes from first to home on a hit, the batter gets credit for a triple. All games on the schedule must be played even if the game must be transferred from one town to another.

No players can be sold in the American league after July 1. In the National league, except by waiver, a ball which hits the bat while a hitter is trying to avoid it, is dead.

The catcher gets credit for an error if he drops the third strike and a batter reaches first base.

Players get credit for all batting fielding averages made in games. They are thrown out on account of protection to receive credit for men thrown out trying to steal.

First baseman receives an error if he fails to touch first base when a side after catching the throw.

Seniors And Freshmen Win

P. H. S. inter-class baseball started off with a bang yesterday afternoon when the Seniors humbled the Sophomores 11 to 0, and the Freshmen put one over on the Junior by the close score of 9 to 7. Both games were five innings each, and played on Millbrook diamond.

Many errors marked the opening games of the season, but the pitchers twirled excellent ball, considering this being the first appearance of the teams this season.

The batteries for Seniors and Sophomores, respectively were Chabot and Thum and Wallace and Russell.

In the Junior-Freshmen game, both occupied the box opposed by Evans and Higgins. Miller and Riggs caught for the two teams, respectively. C. E. Statley umpired.

PICTURESQUE ITALIAN TOWN IS SCENE OF ALLIED CONFERENCE

A general view of San Remo. San Remo, a picturesque little Italian town by the sea, is the scene of the present allied conference, which is the most important meeting of the kind since the departure of President Wilson from the peace conference. Problems of vital concern, such as the Turkish and Adriatic questions and the French advance into the Ruhr basin, are being discussed. San Remo was chosen for the conference because of its convenient situation, being about equally distant from Paris and Rome.

THERE IS NO TELLING

THE Nebraska case further emphasizes how badly muddled and mixed are politics in general. General Pershing was projected on to the Republican side as the state's favorite son and he ran a poor third. Wood had an elaborate organization, as usual, but couldn't get any further than second place. Johnson hadn't anything other than a big noise and he was first under the flag by several thousand feet. It was much the same on the Democratic side. Senator Hitchcock and Bryan engaged in a struggle to destroy each other and all that came out of it was a dog fight. It was a test of personal popularity about evenly divided as to which it wanted to be rid of. Bryan tried to get the voters to repudiate Hitchcock as a presidential candidate. They declared for him by about three to one, but against the talking horse Bryan had entered. Hitchcock wanted to beat Bryan as a delegate to the national convention, but the latter will go to San Francisco duly accredited, the women and the back townships so decreeing.

Thus it goes, not only in Nebraska, but over the Nation. No one can tell and all the rules of the game seem to have gone awry. It isn't any more jammed and jangled in one party than another. Political organizations that were as badly disordered and disturbed as individuals, and none are satisfied with what is had or proposed, but all want something else. It is more than likely that the country will go, both at San Francisco and Chicago, nominees make that it had never so much as thought of.

AS BECOMES A SOLDIER

W rather like the carriage of the naval officer, who appeared before the committee eternally investigating the row started by Admiral Sims, frankly stating that this country did not subdue the German undersea fleet, nor did it concern itself about it, because England had already achieved that end, when America entered. The one great problem was to get a fighting force across safely and that was accomplished.

"Yes," he said, "Secretary Daniels had expressed entire confidence in Admiral Sims, and he was sincere in that, but you see," he observed, "there is a difference in having confidence in a man and turning the whole business and work into his sole control. The trouble with the Admiral was he was too voluminous and too persistent. He was at the department all the time with reiterations of advice or suggestions. Then he was mistaken. He did not understand the situation over here. In June, after war was declared, our navy had fixed its policy and that policy was adhered to until victory was won. England began formulating a naval policy as soon as hostilities commenced, but she did not settle upon it definitely until sometime after America entered the war.

Now, generally speaking, all this is a sharp blow to the noble Admiral, but think of his poignant chagrin, when he, who is such an admirer and imitator of all things English, learns that England, the Mistress of the Seas, for more than three years skirmished around on the waters, not knowing one day what she was going to do next, and he saying this country ought to have done just like England was doing. Why, man alive, how could she, when England was flopping around all the time like a frog on a hot skillet, and believe us it was a hot skillet for her too.

ATTACKING IN THE DARK

W had no warrant to act in an advisory capacity to the candidacy of Warren G. Harding, but it does strike us that the candidate doth protest too much.

From telegraphic accounts one might judge he is talking nothing else than denials of attacks made upon him. But he has some justification and a real provocative. His enemies have not only been attacking him from the rear, but in the dark. Letters and circulars that seem to bear no responsible sponsors and bearing, sometimes no signature at all, are flying all over the state, having for their subject statements and criticisms of his public career. Some of them contain unadulterated inventions, or totally unfair distortions of his utterances.

Of course, these ought to be exposed and denied. However, not by the candidate himself, but by the management of his campaign. For as they agitate their subject, it is to be doubted that anonymous assertions and statements hurt a candidate at all at home, he does lose a certain psychological advantage and suffers a loss in dignity by laying personal stress upon their importance.

The strategy of a campaign is not to confess, and therefore magnify their numbers, that the office-seeker has enemies with bludgeons at his door, but to try to make favor and friend of everyone. To set up "a holler" is the poorest way of going about that.

The unfortunate thing for Harding is that his campaign management has got him off to a bad start and has continued to make the going worse, and the primary only two or three days away. Rows have been started up over the state and kept a-brewing, to the result that many who should be and were with the Senator originally are now against him. There is a blooming example of this right here in the Sixth District.

No, all this doesn't portend fair for Ohio's favorite son, but it doesn't mean that it is fatal to him in the state. The signs do not point to his defeat therein, but there can be no question that he is suffering seriously abroad because of an ugly family jar at home.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

JUST HOW WELL DOES JACK LIKE BARBARA?

Well, to continue my thrilling experiences at Nessa Sloan's studio, I was so delighted to see old Brisk walk in that I actually gave a squeak of joy. Nessa got it, of course she would. Then she strode (yes, that's the word—Brisk always strides sort of) over to little me, and almost embraced me then and there!

My savior came to the rescue, fortunately, and I sidestepped, disconcerted, just in time. How Nessa did laugh. "We girls are all alike," said she, cheerily. "But I never knew that you knew my Brisk!" Her Brisk, indeed! I could have told Mrs. Nessa a thing or two right there, but what good would it do either Brisk or myself? I slipped in by my most simple manner, and murmured something vague about having known him some time.

"Some time!" chuckled Brisk. "Good Lord, Nessa, I've been in love, madly, passionately, hopelessly, with Lindsey ever since—ever since—well, long before Jack Edmunds ever met her."

"Oh," answered Nessa, sweetly and with a lift of her pretty eyebrows, "just how many of us have you been in love with, hopelessly, Brisk?"

At this we all laughed, like kids, and Brisk put an arm round each of us and plumped us down on the divan.

"That's the whole trouble," he said mournfully. "I love each one of you to death—all of you at once—just can't help myself. Grandfather Brisk was the same, before me, so they say; so what chance has a fellow from the start?"

We had the grandest gossip for an hour, until Ned came in, carrying the evening meal in one hand and a rejected work of art in the other. He told me that he had just run into my Jack on the street, with a very pretty girl. Of course I smiled benignly at this news, and felt Nessa's appraisal.

ing eyes upon me. "Dear me, yes, one is apt to see Jack with a pretty girl most any time of day," I said in my most blasé manner. "He's a most modern fellow, to say the least."

With that the subject was dismissed and the talk reverted as it invariably does to women.

Brisk said that he had never seen so many beautiful women as he had this afternoon in his life. "They don't come any more beautiful anywhere in this world, I'll say," he assured us proudly. "High—steppers, queers, every last one of 'em. No prettier sight anywhere than Fifth avenue on a summer afternoon. No, sir."

We were in the midst of agreeing with him, when the knocker knocked, and at Ned's cheer "Come in," who should come smiling through but Jack, firmly entwined on Barbara's strong left arm!

There was a rather awkward silence for some strange reason. We all stared at each other for inspiration. Then Barbara, clever little miss, giggled out, "Why Lindsey, dear, how more than lovely to find you here!" I do not "get" that Miss Barbara at all at times. Jack got a bit red at sight of me and Brisk, or was it not the fact that he and Barbara had entered arm in arm, maybe? But with my usual dignity and tact, I helped to make them all feel at home by chirping up, "Yes, indeed, and isn't it just wonderful to be in the same boat?"

Nessa trickled and brought out some sandwiches from behind the screen, and that helped more than anything could have. I did notice that Barbara's cheeks were flushed and that she seemed rather nervous for some reason or other. None of my business, however. As I sat looking at Jack and her, it suddenly dawned on me that she would make him a much better wife than I ever would. And yet, strange to say, he wants me! I wonder.

DOE KOKO'S KOLUM

Had Little Willie Seared Governor Goodrich of Indiana, said in a discussion of old Christmas customs:

"The old customs that have fallen out of use were a little too coarse and brutal for these ultra-refined times. Take, for instance, the old custom of serving a boar's head at the Christmas dinner."

"I know a rich man who thought he'd revive the old custom on Christmas, and accordingly a boar's head formed the dinner, a lemon in the mouth and the fierce eyes staring glassily straight ahead. The effect was tremendous."

"The rich man, serving slices of the head, came to the turn of his little son."

"Well, Willie, will you have some?"

"Yes, papa," Willie answered in an awed whisper, "but please cut me off a piece where it isn't looking!"

BILLY WHISKERS

The next morning the goats, including Day and Night were driven out on the mountain side to graze. On their way they had to pass the house where Christopher Columbus lived at one time. Day was very much interested; but Night was so much taken up with a yellow and white spotted kid, whom he had fallen in love with at first sight that he had no eyes for anything else. And when Day called his attention to the fact that he was not looking at the house where the discoverer of America had lived, he answered: "her in a cross voice that he did not care who had lived there, that it was a homely, tumble-down looking house anyhow and I not nice to look at and that he would rather look at Spotty, who was pretty and smart looking."

Day answered: "You can look at Spotty any day and you will be sorry when you get back to America and go to tell mamma what you saw, not to be able to tell anything but how a snip-spy, spotted goat looked!"

You see Day was getting jealous, for heretofore she had possessed Night's undivided attention, and now to find herself out by a homely goat, not half as pretty as herself, made her angry.

After they had left the houses behind, they came out on the top of a mountain that looked down into a deep valley. On the opposite mountain was a little waterfall that looked, in its filmy whiteness, like the bridal veil of some giant's daughter hanging out to

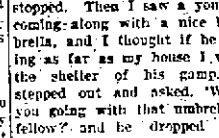

Conscience Stricken

"That's a fine umbrella you carry, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"Did you quite buy it honestly?"

"I haven't quite made it out. It started to rain the other day and I stepped into a doorway to wait till it stopped. Then I saw a young fellow coming along with a nice large umbrella, and I thought if he were going as far as my house I would be the shelter of his pamp. So I stepped out and asked, 'Where are you going with that umbrella, young fellow?' and he dropped the umbrella and ran."

New-York - Day - By - Day

NEW YORK, April 22.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Morning on Riverside Drive. Big Castle is the home of Schwab, the steel millionaire. Winding walks edged with flowers. Ripple of the river. Softly sprinkling for minutes. He bowed to me once as I passed his gate. No doubt he feels for the poor. I may be poor but I've got a good appetite.

A policeman and a nurse girl. Squirrel chatting overhead. House of Amelia Bingham, the actress. Has a lot of marble statues out front. One of Shakespeare. Ornate home trimmed in oaks, was built by a Turkish cigarette millionaire. A painter in front of Grant's Tomb. There's the garage where a poet works. A bubble gripped against a star.

The trout season is open. It's time to be wearing a winter suit this time of year. Lincolns drawing up to a mansion. Grazing of fine garments. Brilliant display of joggernauts. And those bored looking women in knee caps. Nearly a life what a life! I would rather be married to a prince donna. The Padiases will soon melt into purple-like Japanese hills. I've never been in Japan, but I've read about them.

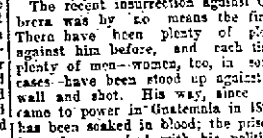

I'll swing over to Broadway. Lurid movie posters. "Trapped by a Fiend," "My Best Pal—Mother," Hisses and tears. Only shop on the street is an Oriental rug store. Up this far Broadway is different. More like a boulevard. Sidewalk in the middle of the street filled with neighborhood folk. No dirt. Everything epic and span.

Why does a postman list to the starboard? Sulphur color gloves seem popular again. There's Oliver Herford. A true wit. Second-hand book store. Nearly always run by quaint old codgers. Live in another world. Except when it comes to money. Enough for today.

I notice above that I have used the word "lurid." There is a word for you. It almost cost me a job when I was in a western newspaper. I came galloping in from a fire that swept a block in the factory district at noon time. I repeatedly spoke of the "lurid tongues of flame." The city editor got tired of reading the word and told me never to use it again. Lurid means "was, ghastly, pale and gloomy." But it is a good word and I still like to use it.

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

MANUEL ESTRADA CABRERA. It looks as if the appearance of Manuel Estrada Cabrera, despotic ruler of Guatemala, had at last driven him from power. After an unbroken rule of twenty-two years this last of Latin America's despotic rulers found himself ousted in Guatemala City, his capital, by rebel soldiers, and compelled to fly to save his life. According to recent reports he has been captured. If this is true he will probably soon go to his final reward.

The recent insurrection against Cabrera was by no means the first. There have been plenty of plots against him before, and each time plenty of men—women, too, in some cases—have been stood up against a wall and shot. His way, since he came to power in Guatemala in 1892, has been marked in blood. The plotters have been packed with his political opponents; mysterious stories have been constantly told of how influential foes of his have disappeared forever, leaving no trace of what befell them.

Manuel Estrada Cabrera was born November 21, 1857, at the city of Quetzaltenango, in the interior of Guatemala. He studied law at the national capital and was appointed governor of the department of Retalhuleu and, in 1886, chief justice of his native city. But these posts were not big enough for his ambitions. He managed to get himself appointed second vice president of the republic. And then, when President Barrios was assassinated in 1892, Cabrera saw his chance. As 1893, Cabrera saw his chance. As 1893, Cabrera saw his chance. As 1893, Cabrera saw his chance.

He was right. And he has been ruler of Guatemala ever since. A czar in the palatial days of czarism, a Roman emperor at the height of Imperial Rome's power, a blood-thirsty despot of the East, he might well call himself Manuel Estrada Cabrera, firmly seated in his throne. He has been a tyrant in a way that would have made a tyrant of antiquity blush for fear that he was overdoing things.

Cabrera has amassed an enormous fortune, it is said, largely by confiscation of plantations and other properties in Guatemala. His principal foes are among the land owning class, many of whom he has driven from their country in order to confiscate their holdings.

Although Cabrera's regime has been ruthless and his methods utterly despotic, his defenders insist that on the whole, his long reign has brought more good than evil to Guatemala. He has improved the country's finances, they say, carried out many important public works, reformed and liberalized the laws, fostered agriculture, introduced modern systems of sanitation. Above all, they declare, he has shown himself such a zealous believer in education that he has installed in Guatemala a really up-to-date school system passed on American models.

War Tax

St. Peter looked with wonder at the two rusty coppers which the passing soul had dropped into his hand. "Why, my good man," he asked, "what is this for?"

"War tax," murmured the soul gloomily as it passed through the heavenly gates.

GRANAU TO ADVISE CHICAGO STRIKERS TO RETURN TO POSTS

MAN WHO STARTED THE STRIKE ADMITS IT PROVED FAILURE

CHICAGO, April 23.—Striking railroad workers of the Chicago district met today at the call of insurgent union men and engineers' union officials in another attempt to settle the unauthorized walkout, an admitted failure.

John Granau, president of the Chicago Yardsmen's Association, the first organization to go on strike, in what later became a nation-wide movement, said he would advise the men to return to work.

"We could fight the railway brotherhood and the railroad officials," Granau said, "but we cannot fight the government. So far as our immediate demands for wage increases are concerned, the strike has been a failure." He said, however, that the fight for permanent maintenance of the insurgent unions would be carried on.

Meanwhile in the Chicago district, freight traffic rose to 80 per cent of normal, railroad managers asserted, and elsewhere throughout the west to the Pacific coast freight movement was reported returning to normal.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Members of the so-called "outlaw" railroad workers union still on strike in New York and Jersey City, waited today for the "next move" in the struggle, which their leader E. A. McHugh declared must come from the railroad managers.

More than 5,000 men are out and voted yesterday, according to McHugh, to remain out until the railroad labor board had acted on demands for a general wage increase. This may take several months.

The railroad managers met McHugh's challenge for a "next move" by redoubling their efforts to hire new men to replace the strikers and reiterating their determination to take strikers back only as new employees with loss of their seniority rights. The Erie railroad emphasized this point yesterday by refusing to take back on their old basis 900 men who applied in a body for reinstatement.

BATTLE LINES DRAWN FOR CIVIL WAR IN MEXICO

AGUA PRIETA, SONORA, April 23.—Grouping of troops of the Carranza and Sonora state governments at concentration and strategic points for the campaign brought on by the assumption by Sonora of a revolutionary state continued today. The vanguard of federal troops expected to attack Sonora from Chihuahua, where reported encamped at Ojitos, while 7,000 additional troops left Buena Vista, near Mexico City, for the north Sunday night, papers received from the capital said.

More than 1,000 Mayo Indians were enroute to join as many more Mayos and Yaquis already in this district. Presence of the Yaquis and Mayos in eastern Sonora was said to indicate the state government expected its hardest battle in this section. The Indians are described as the best fighters in Mexico. All are veterans of hard campaigns and many of them fought in the last revolution, which raised President Carranza to power.

The proclamation General P. Elias Calles, commander-in-chief of the Sonora army, announced he would issue today, was awaited with some interest. He said upon his arrival here last night that the Sonora movement had resulted in establishment of a new party of progress, and that his statement would be issued in behalf of it and Sonora.

Military intelligence officers of Sonora at Nogales made public today an alleged report of Carranza officials to lure employees of the Sonora customs service to the federal side. It was charged many were offered pay to leave the Sonora government, and some did leave.

Passports issued to American citizens and visited by Carranza consuls are not being accepted by Sonora immigration officials. Americans now are compelled to have new passports issued and visited by the Sonora commercial agents, who act as consuls at border cities in the United States.

Andreas Garcia, postmaster general of Mexico, at Laredo yesterday characterized the Sonora revolt against the Carranza government as of "slight importance," and said it is lamentable that the American press is giving such "prominence to the Sonora situation."

It would be impossible, it was said, to submit the amendment to the voters before next fall.

The supreme courts in eight states already have passed upon the referendum petitions, according to a brief filed today with the court by George S. Hawke, of Cincinnati, who instituted the Ohio proceedings.

REED REJECTED AS DELEGATE BY MISSOURI

JOPLIN, Mo., April 23.—United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, league of nations opponent, was rejected as district delegate to the Democratic national convention by vote of the Democratic state convention meeting here today. The convention has been session all night.

JOPLIN, Mo., April 23.—The Democratic state convention in session here today broke from precedent when the senior United States senator was not elected as a delegate at large to the national convention. The senator, James A. Reed, has been one of the bitterest opponents of the proposed league of nations, and has announced that if chosen as a delegate at large he would not be bound by instructions to vote for a plank endorsing the league.

Governor Frederick D. Gardner, Judge W. W. Graves of Jefferson City, Dr. Morris A. Jenkins, pastor and newspaper man of Kansas City, and Judge John S. Farrington, Springfield, were named delegates at large with half vote each, four women to be named later.

The election of delegates came at the close of what party leaders said was one of the stormiest sessions in Missouri Democratic politics.

REFERENDUM PROBLEMS UP BEFORE U. S. SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The supreme court today began consideration of whether federal amendments must be submitted to the voters for ratification in states, having referendum provisions in their constitutions. The question is involved in appeals from Ohio Supreme Court decrees sustaining the state constitutional referendum amendment and dismissing injunction proceedings brought to enjoin submission of the prohibition and women suffrage amendments to popular vote.

The case is the first of its kind to reach the supreme court and upon the court's opinion, it is asserted, would likely depend whether the women of the country would be able to vote at the forthcoming presidential election.

Should the court hold the suffrage amendment must be submitted to a referendum, Ohio would be withdrawn temporarily from the list of states which the secretary of state has certified as ratifying.

It would be impossible, it was said, to submit the amendment to the voters before next fall.

The supreme courts in eight states already have passed upon the referendum petitions, according to a brief filed today with the court by George S. Hawke, of Cincinnati, who instituted the Ohio proceedings.

In two states, Washington and Ohio,

Pandemonium greeted the simultaneous reports of majority and minority members of the resolutions committee touching on the league of nations covenant, the former which was adopted, being an endorsement "without reservations, which tends to weaken or nullify" the pact, while the latter opposed the league and objected to instructing the Missouri delegation to the national convention to vote for a plank in the national platform endorsing the league, as recommended by the majority report.

Other resolutions adopted were: Endorsement of the Democratic administration's conduct of the war; designation of the Republicans post-war activities; endorsing "adequate, beneficial legislation" for former service men "as outlined by the American Legion"; endorsement of "a living wage and more" for labor and praising the farmers of the country for their efforts to maintain maximum food production; extension of a welcome to the women of the nation into the Democratic party and an invitation to them to compare the welcome accorded them by the parties, and instructing the Missouri delegation to vote and work for the nomination of David R. Francis for vice president.

The referendum provisions have been sustained while in Oregon, Maine, Colorado, Arkansas, California and Michigan, the courts held the provisions void as applied to the acts of their respective legislatures ratifying the prohibition amendment. The federal question was argued at length recently before the supreme court in the prohibition cases. At that time, however, attorneys on both sides admitted that no matter how the court ruled, the prohibition situation would not be affected, as sufficient states already had ratified the amendment without the so-called referendum states.

Troops Patrol Butte Streets

BUTTE, April 23.—Federal soldiers from Camp Lewis and Fort George Wright, Washington, today began patrolling the streets of Butte, scene of numerous disturbances, since the metal mine workers union No. 800, Industrial Workers of the World, called strike last Sunday.

Operations of several big mines in the district, closed since the strike began, announced plans for resuming operations today after the troops arrived last night. No demonstration marked the arrival of the infantrymen. They were ordered here by the western department of the army upon request of Governor Stewart. He asked for them after a riot near the Northwestern mine in which 14 men were shot and a policeman injured.

WOMEN PLAY BIG ROLL IN THE KANSAS CONVENTION

WICHITA, KAN., April 23.—Women had a large part in the state Democratic convention here. Not only were a woman delegate and a woman alternate elected on the "big four" delegate-at-large but two women were among the sixteen delegates elected by the districts and confirmed by the convention and three were among the alternates. The resolutions adopted all so made mention of the woman suffrage amendment, and predilection was made on the floor that national suffrage would be a reality shortly.

Delegates to the national convention go uninvited; as to the presidential candidate, it was decided, "The name of William G. McAdoo, was several times cheered and that of Bryan once."

A letter from President Wilson to J. M. Shaw, elected today as delegate-at-large, setting forth the league of nations as a campaign issue, was read to the convention.

The president wrote: "I cannot help thinking that the party is to be congratulated on the fact that it has come to a year of exceptional opportunity and duty. The issue which it is our duty to raise with the voters of the country involves nothing less than the honor of the United States and the redemption of its most solemn obligations: its obligations to its associates in the Great War and to mankind, to whom it gave the most explicit pledge that it would not merely to win a victory in arms, but also to follow up that victory with the establishment of such a concert of nations as would guarantee the permanence of a peace based on justice."

Colonel Sam Amidon of Wichita was elected national committeeman by acclamation. The delegates at large are Mrs. Caroline Brennan, Arkansas City; Jennett Shouse, Kinsey, former governor George Hodges, Olathe and Robert W. Blair, Topeka.

A proposed resolution condemning the Kansas industrial court was tabled. The country must be prepared to see the Democratic convention at San Francisco nominate President Wilson for a third term. J. Hamilton Lewis, former senator from Illinois told the convention in an address tonight.

FOIL MOB IN ATTEMPT TO LYNCH NEGRO

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 23.—Indianapolis was quiet today following riotous scenes last night when the police dispersed a mob of more than 2,000 persons bent upon lynching William Ray, negro, who is alleged to have confessed to the murder of Martin Huff, a young white girl. One person was shot in an exchange of shots in the vicinity of the Marion county jail, where Ray is confined, and the police made 15 arrests.

Chief of Police Kinney held the entire police force of the city in readiness today in anticipation of possible further demonstrations.

Leon Harris, negro, 18 years old, was shot in the neck and in the left leg, while running from a crowd of men through the heart of the business district of the city. He was taken to the city hospital and his condition is not believed to be serious.

John Gray, 37 years old, giving his home as Louisville, was arrested on charges of carrying concealed weapons and shooting within the city limits.

Ten shots were fired by the mob. Fifteen men were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct and inciting a riot. The last of the mob was dispersed before midnight. Ray was arrested late Wednesday and is said to have signed a written confession of the crime which was committed Monday night. Thursday afternoon, in a second statement, he admitted "the police say that he stabbed the girl when she fought him as he started to assault her a second time. He is alleged to have driven a pen knife into her throat 15 times, stripped her of her clothing and thrown her body into the swollen waters of Eagle Creek, west of the city. Ray was held to the grand jury without bond on a charge of murder."

Ex-Premier Caillaux Found Guilty Of Having Placed Political Ambitions Higher Than Interests Of Nation

PARIS, April 23.—Joseph Caillaux, former premier of France and twice minister of finance, stands convicted of having placed his personal ambitions during the war higher than the interests of his country that honored him and gave him birth. Caillaux, while capable conviction for high treason, was found to have been recklessly impulsive and very close to treasonable activities for such is the interpretation of the verdict of "guilty of commerce and correspondence with the enemy" which was rendered against him by the French senate.

This is the first verdict of the sort rendered in any of the allied countries since the war began "commerce" as interpreted by the senators who were the judges not meaning financial trading but commerce by means of correspondence, while "correspondence" in this particular case is employed in the sense of association.

The senators entered Luxembourg palace this afternoon with the determination to have finished with the affair, which has taken up their time during the past three months. They began discussion in a vigorous, business-like manner presenting a strange contrast to their heated attitude during the closing days of the trial.

No one, however, took seriously the prediction that the verdict would be reached this evening. But after the court had disposed of the high treason charge and that of "intelligence with the enemy" and had declared its own sentence in less than four hours, word was passed that a decision was

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 23.—Selected issues, notably independent steels made substantial additions to yesterday's rally at the opening of today's stock market. Republic was the chief feature, 6,000 shares changing hands at $1 to $3, an extreme overnight advance of 7 points. Shipbuilding, oil, motors and sugars reflected further covering of short contracts and rails gave promise of greater activity at moderate gains. Part of the advance was cancelled within the first half hour when United States Steel and Baldwin Locomotive became reactionary.

Prepare For An Attack By Negro Band

PITTSBURGH, Kan., April 23.—Citizens patrolling the streets of Mulberry, Kansas, near here early today said they believed reports of preparations made to receive them had deterred a band of negroes reported marching at Cowbridge, a small mining camp nearby, with the intention of marching on Mulberry. The negroes were said to have become incensed over the lynching at Mulberry last Monday of a negro charged with an attack on a white girl.

When the report was received at Mulberry that the negroes were preparing a raid guards were stationed and the hardware stores were thrown open so citizens could obtain arms and ammunition.

But four employees are said to have refused the offer of the company to accept their old positions back. Strikers at Russell and Silver Grove were still out last night. The number of trains moving westward is increasing daily and the amount of freight reaching Huntington from western points also has shown a decided increase in the last two days.

Norfolk and Western employees have until today to resume their old jobs. Men who do not return at the specified time will be considered out of the service, according to an official announcement by the railroad company.

Wedding Ring Worn on Thumb

In the reign of George I of England fashion had something to do with the wedding ring. Large wedding rings being favored at that time, it was not unusual to see a woman wearing her wedding ring on her thumb, although it had been placed on the fourth finger during the ceremony. Wedding rings were also worn on the thumb in the middle of the seventeenth century.

DR. THOMAS AND ROUDEBUSH ENDORSED

At an enthusiastic meeting last night the Democratic Central committee unanimously endorsed Dr. G. Frank Thomas, Adams county, and G. F. Roudebush, Clermont county, as delegates from this, the Sixth District, to the National Democratic convention.

There is a three-cornered fight on for the two delegateships. A. G. Turle, West Union being the other candidate, and the action of the local committee in approving the candidates of Thomas and Roudebush, followed the lead taken by the Adams county committee recently through its endorsement of these two men.

Dr. Thomas, who is a brother of Judge James S. Thomas of this city, is a prominent physician at Twicken and is quite well and favorably known here. Although a lifelong Democrat, he has never before sought political honors and he does not believe he will receive a big vote in Schick county next Tuesday.

Mr. Roudebush is an attorney at Bay Mills and formerly represented his district in the Ohio Senate. He is an active Democrat and has rendered valuable service to his party in the past.

The meeting last night which was held at Democratic headquarters in the Twicken building was well attended and ringing talks were made by chairman William N. Gablman, Secretary Will West, Safety Director St. Strauss and others in which they urged Democrats to go to the polls next Tuesday. A special effort is to be made to get out the vote.

TEAMSTERS' CHIEF SLAIN IN CHICAGO LABOR WAR

CHICAGO, April 23.—Madar Hayno, state's attorney, announced today, he had gained information which would result in the arrest of the man who yesterday shot and killed Edward Coleman, head of the Chicago teamsters district council, in a recent outbreak of Chicago's labor warfare.

A number of union leaders were questioned by the state's attorney and two members of the teamsters council, "Mickie" Norris and John Hayley, named by Coleman as enemies before he died, were being held. Coleman was unable to identify his assailant, however.

Police attributed the shooting to a factional fight among leaders of the teamsters organization. Coleman was said to have attempted to oust Norris and Haley from the union.
